IN DEDICATION

President Van Meter has been a living landmark upon this campus since 1917. Always we have looked up to him. Paraphrasing Feste, "If that this simple symbol will serve, so; if it will not, what remedy?"

There have been, of course, temporary absences, in line of duty. For four years he was in our Extension Service and hence variously about the state. Still, it was Trustee Bowker who said, "The state is our classroom." Then Mr. Van Meter was in Ithaca for a year or so assembling residence credits for his doctorate in 1935. And whenever, summer or winter, the Appalachian Club has announced a rugged trek, he has been off for wind-swept summits in northern New England. For years the Van Meter family have gone out onto Mt. Toby on Thanksgiving Day.

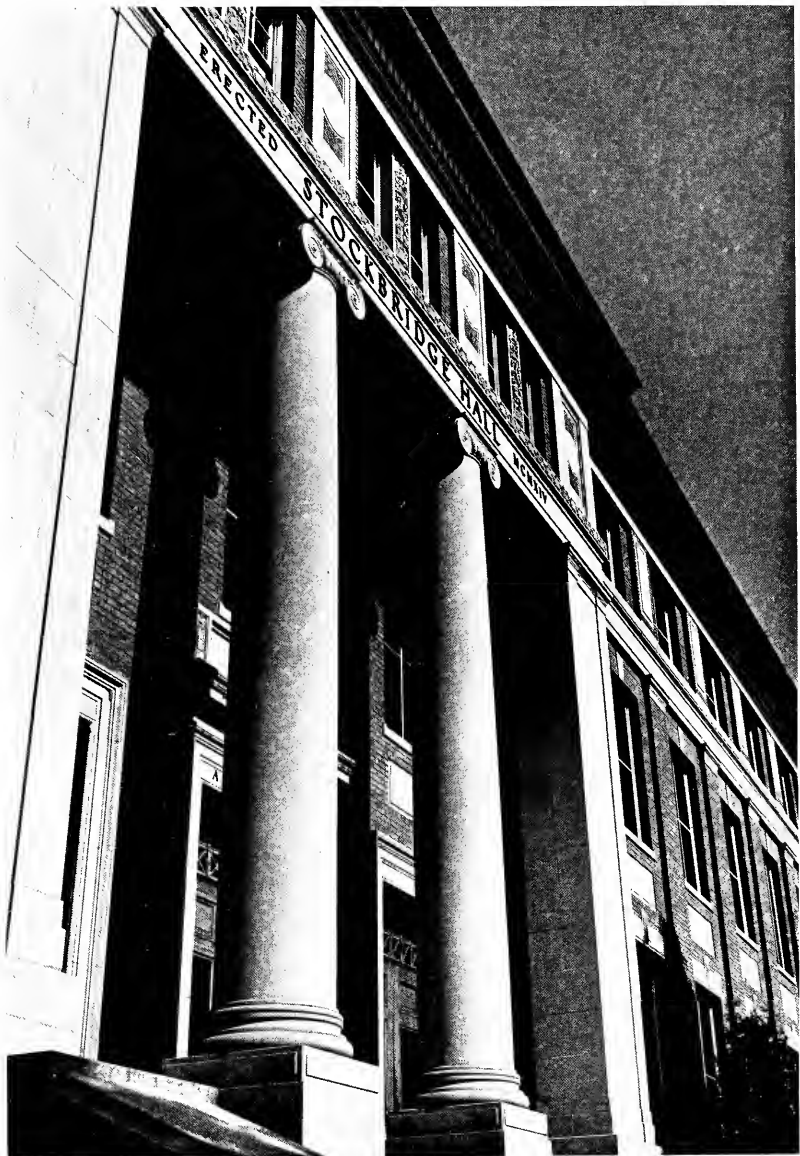

The President's field of interest is pomology. Both of his daughters, however, majored in our English Department, and when their father relinquished the deanship of the School of Horticulture in 1946 to assume the exacting responsibilities of the presidency, he was qualified for sympathetic and understanding leadership in terms of the entire campus. No president after eight years of administration has had so few critics, so many friends.

RALPH ALBERT VAN METER

YEAR IN REVIEW

APRIL

April — showers and sunshine, Greeks and grass.

Vacation was over, and the final flurry had begun.

Midsemester reports appeared and then were forgotten under the soothing influence of Conrad Thibault and the Angelaires, "Plaisir d'Amour" and "Claire de Lune."

Greek Week, filled with fun and competition, was first on the social calendar and was climaxed by the Greek Ball, over which Carol Handy reigned supreme. Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra not only provided the music but also nationalized the dance; for the program which he recorded at the beginning of the dance was later broadcast from coast to coast.

Prominent guest speakers emphasized the diversity of our university program. Mathematician Norbert Weiner, Senator John Kennedy, and M. Pierre Trouvat of the World University Service were all greeted enthusiastically by interested students.

Sudden showers and an active WOW—Walk on Walks—campaign turned the grass green and spirits high. Winter came back for a final thrust, and Spring Day was delayed — because of snow!

MTRP worked and planned; the French Club put on one-act plays; and the Senate convinced the students that progress must be paid for by a rise in the student tax.

The senior class went into a huddle to decide upon their class gift, the establishment of a University History Room in Goodell Library, a lasting, long-needed gift.

Mysterious ads appeared in the Collegian offering plans for "the perfect honeymoon" — and everyone knew spring had arrived.

May means spring, and spring means picnics, and last-minute cramming. The end of one year, the plans for the next.

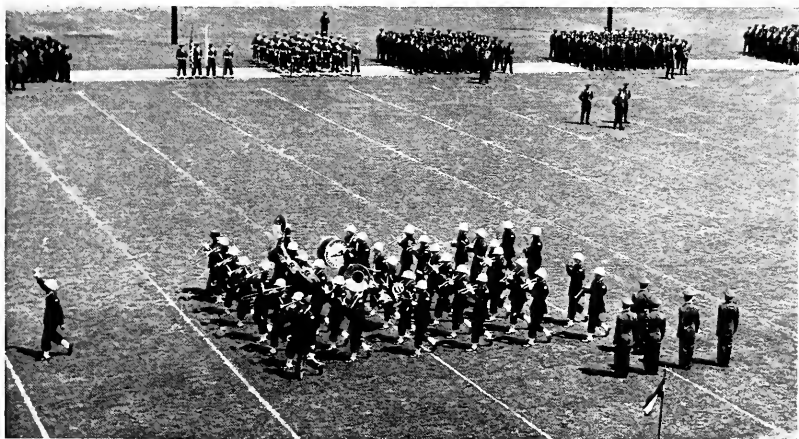

Parents came to see for themselves how their children lived, but all of a sudden were too busy to find out. In one weekend — Two on an Island, the Bay State Dairy Classic, a military show, a Naiads aquatic show, a Band concert, and the Women's Honors Convocation.

The Junior-Senior Processional-candles flickered against the dark background of College Pond, while the senior women sang farewell to those who would soon take their places.

MAY

Robert Frost came to the campus to share with us his poetry and his wit.

The Collegian prodded and the campus gave, and Dr. Goldberg went to the WUS conference in Istanbul.

The month whirled to a close with the chorale's musical drama Lost in the Stars, the ROTC review, the tapping of Isogon, Adelpia, Scrolls, and Maroon Key, next year's leaders.

The final blow — exams; and the underclassmen left. The Seniors were on their own.

JUNE

At last

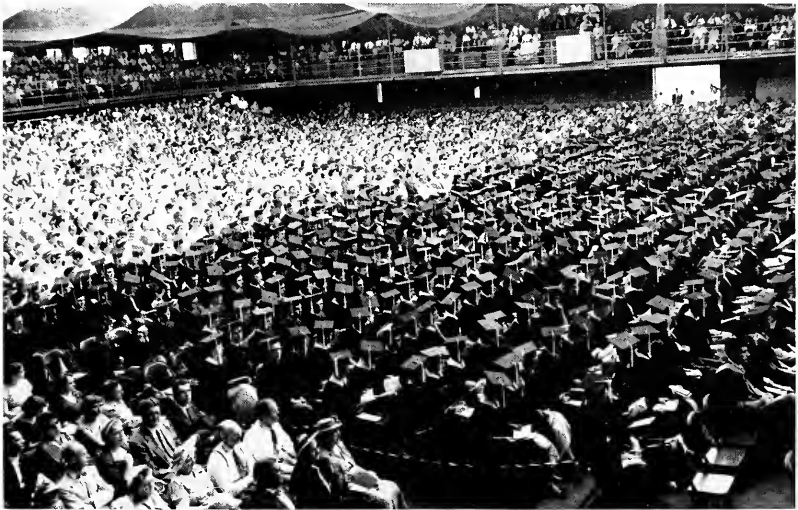

June! The Seniors' four-year wheel had spun full circle. Their time was up. A four-day whirl: graduation; the last peal of the Chapel bells.

June 4. Toto's in Northampton was the scene of the Senior Banquet, fête and food.

June 5. The Sophomores paid the Seniors their final tribute at the Soph-Senior Hop. Jesse Smith and his orchestra provided music to dream to.

June 6. Class Night with the class making its formal farewell as undergraduates. Senior class president Dave Flood passed his mantle over to Junior class president Joe Lucier, thus symbolizing the continuance of traditions and of duties. True to the Mettawampe spirit the class gripes were aired, the hatchet was buried and the peacepipe took its place. The class ode, oration and song, the dedication and planting of the ivy, and the Roister Doister play all completed the evening.

June 7. The final day. A morning Baccalaureate and in the afternoon, graduation. Empty seats were left in the rain on the library lawn and once again the Cage became Graduation Hall. Sadness and gladness; mounting tension; martial music; a speech by poet David Morton; diplomas; music; the end.

Cars, people, bags, books, boxes, and baggage — September had arrived and the Amherst invasion was on.

Morning mists, golden afternoons, and everything to begin anew.

A two-day early arrival gave the freshmen a chance to get acquainted and find their way around before the upperclassmen came. A convocation, a test, a play day, and two dances — college had begun.

This year all 1140 of the freshmen had been pre-registered so that this traditional ordeal was now a joy — well, almost.

Right off, the effervescent spirit of freshmanism was evoked in something new this year, an interdorm sing and skit competition. Thatcher won the sings and Butterfield the skits.

UM's expansion program was continued, and many things were new: a school of nursing, a music department, and a speech-and-drama major. The faculty got new members; the band got new uniforms; and the campus cops got a new cruiser.

Mills and Butterfield were given back to the boys, and the girls moved down into the valley. Two new women's dorms were opened, Leach House for upperclassmen and Crabtree House for freshmen.

Dignity and simplicity characterized the opening convocation at which Provost Mather addressed the students and faculty. He asked for university members with an outlook as expansive as the horizon around them. He also pledged himself, as so should we all, to look to the future of our school, keeping in mind a realistic understanding of its avowed purpose as a state university.

Fall sports — the teams, the band, the cheerleaders, and the drill team, everyone worked to get ready for a new season.

Summer weather lingered on, but summer's dreamy ease had ended. A new chapter of life had been begun and was now to be lived.

OCTOBER

The Hort Show

October had what no other month could boast of — a float parade, a rope pull, and twenty-six days of classes!

Bang! A bonus concert, Stan Kenton, and the whole campus was wide awake. Progressive jazz was a new but well-received feature on the concert calendar.

The Homecoming Weekend Float Parade and the home-game football rallies combined student enthusiasm and peppy cheerleaders; result — lots of spirit cheering the team in its hours of trial.

The Freshmen won the rope pull! Initiative, perseverance, and a few extra men, that's all it took. Water, mud, and a free-for-all — situation normal.

The results of Provost Mather's study of campus organization were made known. Fraternities took the responsibility for the conduct of everyone at their parties, and the Dean's office lost its authority to deduct points for missed classes. The student's honor was again given a chance to stand on its own.

In order to give the students of the future a fair chance for adequate facilities, the trustees decided that enrollment expansion should be restricted until the proposed and long needed classrooms and equipment could be provided.

"Smile, hold it — fine." The Seniors had their pictures taken for the INDEX and went to vocational convocations. Being a Senior was real after all.

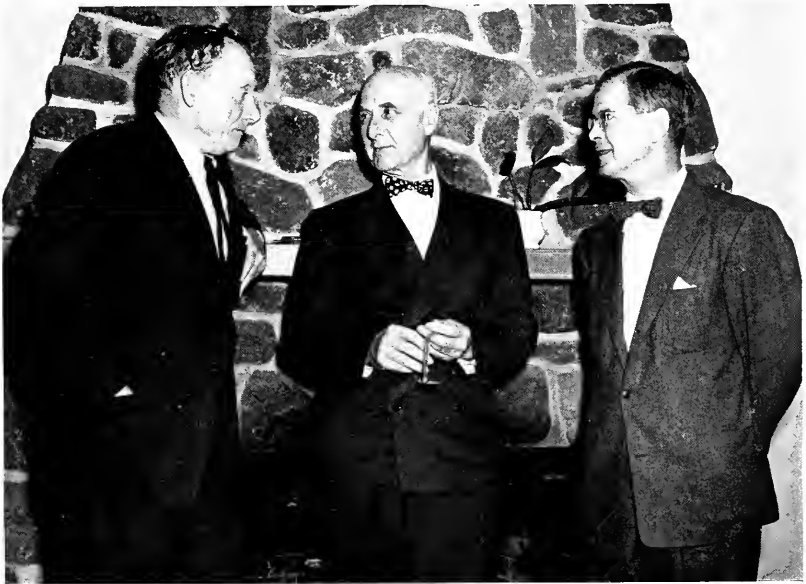

Pianist Alec Templeton came; and the campus received a musical treat which varied from Debussy to Hep Hep Bouree, Templeton's own improvisation.

November was coming close, the leaves had fallen, and the landscape grew gray — not so inside the Cage. Here the "Queen of Flowers," Jane Jackson, reigned in a garden of roses. The Horticulture Show once again brought distinction to the University, thousands viewing the show in person and on television.

November was a month of re-making, reviving, and renewing our old traditions.

As the university grows, so must its organizational coordination. The Academic Activities Board and the Student Life Committee had been found wanting and were replaced and extended by a Committee on Recognized Student Organizations and a Committee on Student Social Activities.

Just plain bull

NOVEMBER

Congrats, General!

A holiday, a mountain, and lots of fun — an old tradition was on its way to becoming a new one. The Mount Toby recreation area was the place and November 11 the time. The student-faculty outing, Mountain Day, was again in existence.

Elizabeth the Queen by Maxwell Anderson presented a challenge and a victory to the 43-year-old Roister Doister group, who made royalty and intrigue come to life in Bowker Auditorium.

Students sang to students, and international good will was given a helping hand. The University of Helsinki Chorus presented a program of Finnish music as beautiful as the land from which it sprang.

"Outside UM" was also brought inside UM by such talks as Dr.

Who's reviewing who?

Caldwell's on England and Dr. Lowenstein's on German elections.

The weather grew brisk and fall sports came to an end. The cross-country team proved its merit this year by winning the New England championship for the first time.

The never static building program had good news. The wistfully dreamed of new Student Union Building could become a reality now. It would take hard work and student-alumni cooperation, but it could be done.

Thanksgiving, home, food, a deep breath — and back to start again.

We'll have a ball!

December and the Christmas spirit arrived on campus at about the same time, bringing festivities, lights, and music.

First sorority and then fraternity pledging climaxed the fall rushing excitement for Greeks, present and prospective.

Mid-semester reports and parking tickets—but why let little things dampen spirits? Not with the Military Ball coming up! Charlie Spivak and his orchestra played sweet melody, to the dancers' delight; and Carol Bruinsma beamed as she received the cape and the distinction of Honorary Colonel.

As ever, the freshmen were full of life. A series of interdorm "Frosh Frolic" dances ranked high on the list of dorm doings.

Lectures on Athens, Dante, and Supreme Court cases; nominations to Phi Kappa Phi. Parties were the frosting, not the cake.

The campaigns to get new classroom buildings went into full swing as it was found necessary to discontinue the use of fourth floor North College. Plans for the proposed Student Union steamed ahead, UM delegates comparing notes and ideas with students from other colleges.

and possible infiltration — all of a sudden these were vital issues. We, too, were going to be investigated — so the rumor went.

The Christmas season — the Concert Band for the first time presented a first-semester program; the dorms and clubs had parties; and the French Club presented a Christmas pageant. Bowker wore holly for a Sunday Vesper Service, and carols were sung by the pond around a lighted tree that was bright enough to be a symbol of the hope that was held for the coming year.

"Oh come all ye faithful..."

JANUARY

January. Whoosh! Now you see it, now you don't. How could a month go by so fast? The beginning of a year, the end of a semester.

Back from their vacation, the students found that someone had been on campus even if they hadn't. The new dining Commons had been completed and was ready for business. Everyone was busy talking about the new furniture, the drapes, the soft background music, and even the view. Who could complain about the food? This place had atmosphere!

Let's not get carried away

Goodell Library had also been a busy place during vacation. In fact, scattered ladders and paint pots still made a hazardous journey out of a search for a book. Newly painted walls and fluorescent lights plus added chairs and tables gave the reading room a new look as well as a larger seating capacity.

"All Aboard." The Minstrel Showboat steamed into port for the Campus Varieties show. Dancing and drama, music and monkeyshines; the show had talent; the audience had fun.

Winter Carnival came early this year, timed perfectly to coincide with lots of real winter cold and snow. It only lasted a week-end this year but had plenty of activity—snow sculptures, parties, skiing, skating, and the Carnival Ball, a picture of swirling skirts and a confusion of colors. Lt. Gov. Whittier crowned Carol Handy Queen of the Carnival.

The Literary Society received national recognition—and money. It was given a grant from the National Association of Educational Broadcasters to present a series of broadcasts by New England poets.

A mad dash to finish term papers and lab reports, a day of rest—that's registration?—and then finals.

February, the month of the groundhog's prophecy. The big day—now sun and now not; and so went the rest of the month, now spring, now winter. New England weather performed traditionally; more colds for more people was the motto.

A new semester is a time for new resolutions. It is also a time for return—return to the campus, to the books, to the book store lines, to the C-Store, to the Snack Bar—and to old habits.

Return for the Chorale members was something different. They felt as if they'd never left home. A seven-day concert tour spread University good will and popularity throughout the state, and left the singers happy but tired.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra came to campus to give us a taste of the magnificence of classical music blended to smooth perfection by conductor Antal Dorati.

Politics and policy, foreign affairs and the future—world problems were the problems of all of us. Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. of Harvard and Willard Thorp of Amherst presented their views on political and economic affairs to a student body that would be soon living in the much-speculated-about future.

VARSIY SKI TEAM

The Senate rolled up its sleeves and got things done. The Social Activities Committee added something new to the calendar—co-ed swimming, Saturday night Snack Bar hours, afternoon open hours for Drill Hall, and movies in Bowker. Fun could be had without a wounded wallet.

Four one-act plays and a barrelful of emotions, sad seriousness and carefree confusion—the Interclass Plays were on. The Seniors lost their chance for a four-year monopoly — the Sophomores and Juniors took top honors this year.

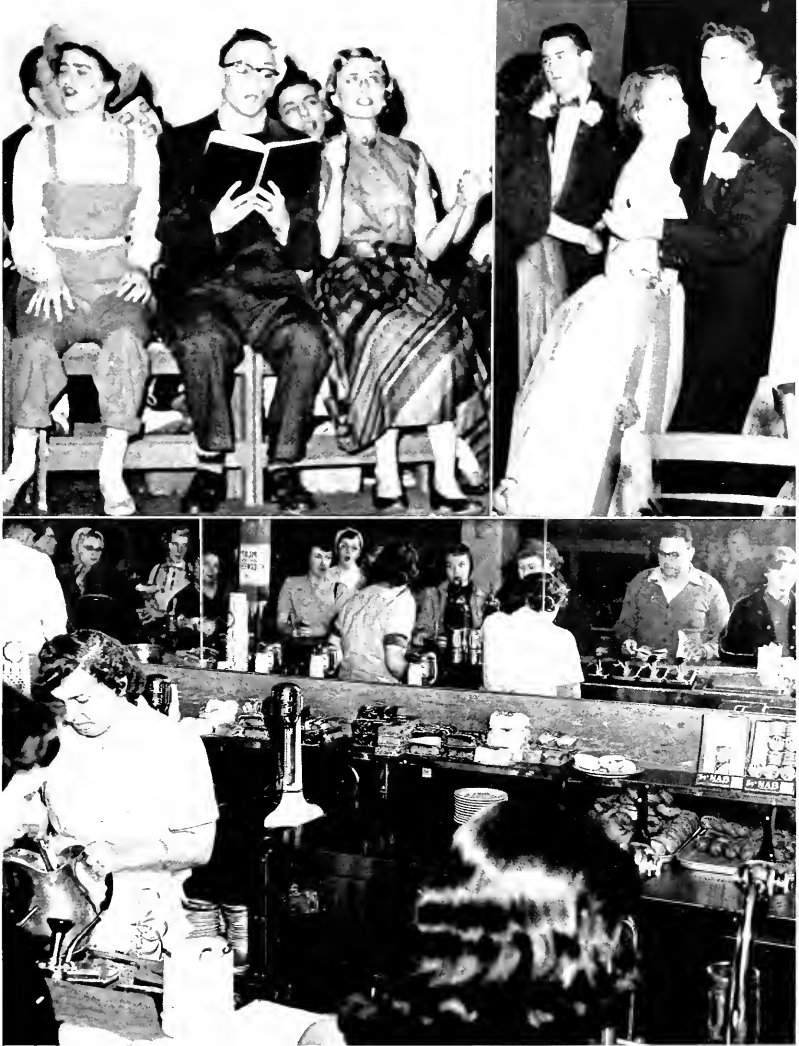

Religious Convocation Day with the stimulus of speaker Rev.

Blanchard set students thinking about things too important to be neglected even if not included in the text book.

Honor to those who deserve. The student athletes were banqueted and praised for their labors and proficiency.

For an author, praise is a presentation of her works. The Fine Arts Council, with student aid, dramatized selections of Gertrude Stein.

All of a sudden the shortest month of the year was over; the campus launched into spring festivities, and March was here.

MARCH

March—mild and muddy, wild and windy. Last on the calendar for review, but right near the front in activity.

Ring around the merry-go-round, a basket full of stars—Carousel—and the month was off to a whizzing start. Rogers and Hammerstein wrote it, Murdock and Farwell sang it, and everybody loved it. Later in the month, Rogers and Hammerstein visited campus for a special convocation.

The weather warmed up and so did the hospitality. U.M. opened its gates to visitors from far and wide. They flocked to the Little International Livestock Show to see the carefully groomed animals and their proud exhibitors. The Engineering Open House with all of its lights, noises, and whirling wheels brought forth many "ooh's" and "ah's" and questions like "What's that?"

Well, what did you expect—flapjacks too?

Where else?

The Springfield Gymnasts performed here, and now it was our turn to "ooh" and "ah."

Besides those who came to see and applaud, there came others to borrow our facilities and to learn. Groups such as the annual Turf and Recreation Conference came, and the campus bloomed with signs as well as buds.

MARCH

Greek rushing began again. For the fraternities there was also "Character Building Week," with its nice early morning walks in the fresh country air, carefully trimmed hair, and the performance of public services; all for the best interests of the pledges, of course.

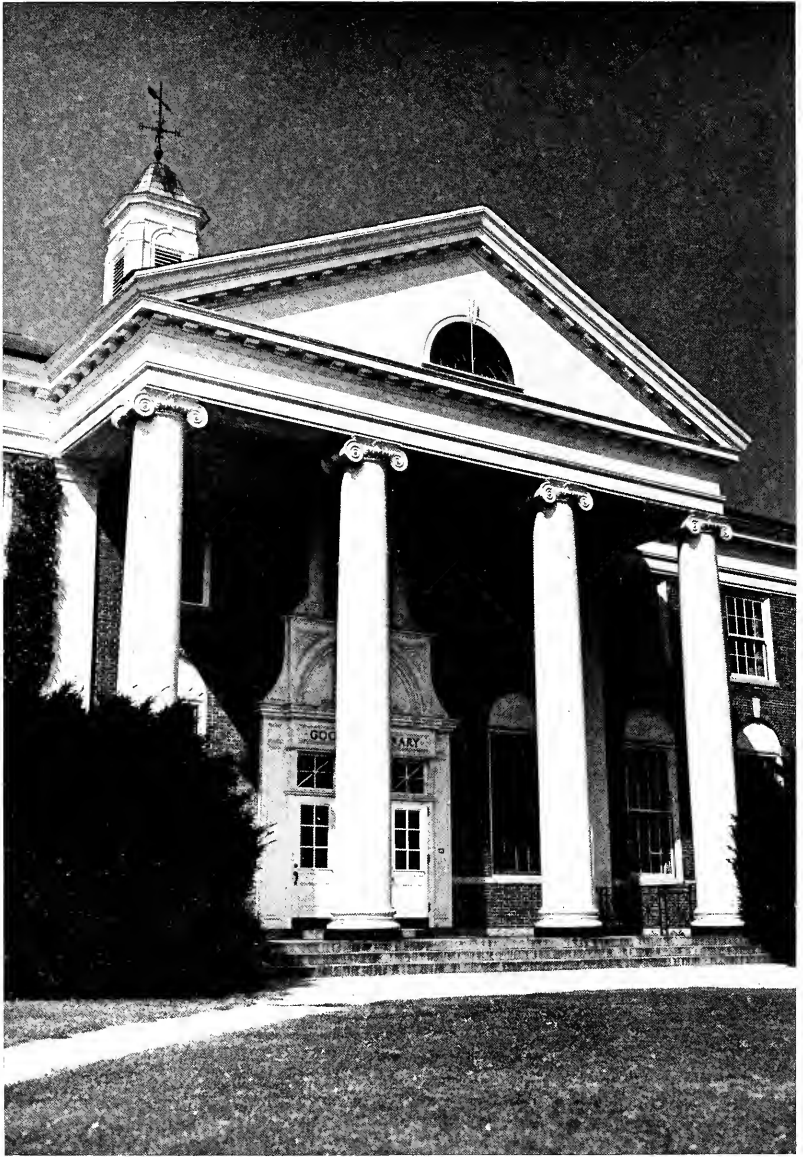

Finally the fighting quieted down and the Greeks changed to tune. Smooth harmony and enthusiasm characterized the Interfraternity and Panhellenic sings.

Somehow the year rolled by; another INDEX was ready for print; another class was getting ready to graduate; a four-year impression had been made on this class, and yet the wheel rolled on. Soon a new class for the University, a new horizon for the graduates.

INDEX

There is no need to tell you what the INDEX is. You are looking at it—a pictorial and verbal record of the year and of the graduating seniors. It is a mighty slim volume to show for the uncountable hours of work by a staff approaching 100 members, yet not one of that staff will ever regret a single hour of that work; and the book which you now hold in your hands will again and again, as you review it in the future, prove that their work was worth-while. They have labored to catch and preserve the spirit and the record of every phase of University life, and their many sacrifices in time and effort to achieve this end have been donated freely and enthusiastically. This INDEX is their reward and their gift to you.

The Quarterly has become important among the publications on campus through its encouragement and promotion of the writing talent within the University. It has taken pride in bringing to the student body a magazine of original and intelligent writing by the students themselves.

Through regular publication and literary contests, it has endeavored to stimulate creativity and sound literary expression. The Quarterly's encouragement of literary work from all departments has given its issues a well-rounded content by attracting scientific articles and technical criticisms as well as work of a liberal arts character.

As the deadline for each of the four issues approached, the staff could be seen praying that once more the future Faulkners and Frosts would appear, laden with young masterpieces. All contributions were welcomed and carefully considered, and all those of sufficient merit were published. Unpublished work was returned with constructive criticism that proved valuable to its author's future efforts.

The Quarterly is an integral part of the campus, not of one department. Its appeal for material from everyone has aimed at greater variety and popularity among campus readers.

COLLEGIAN

Keeping pace with the events of an ever-larger and more complex University, the Collegian's two staffs continued to improve its reputation as an effective, intelligent student newspaper. Its bi-weekly issues emphasized accuracy and timeliness in furnishing complete coverage of campus news as well as significant local events.

An important and popular new feature of the Friday issue was the addition of a summary page of world and international news.

Rumors of a loyalty investigation of the University had scarcely begun when a sign appeared on the office door proclaiming it the entrance to "The Worker's Collegian," but subsequent reaction was of a completely serious nature. Academic freedom suddenly became a very real and meaningful issue. Then rumor had it that the University was not to be investigated, and interest died; but new issues were being aired by the Collegian and many students availed themselves of the letters-to-the-editor column to express their opinions.

HANDBOOK

The Handbook, or the "Freshman Bible," as it has often been called, is published annually and contains concise and pertinent information on all phases of our college life. Its contents include a calendar which lists all the important scheduled events of the school year, a campus map which is invaluable to both freshmen and upperclassmen, and information on every campus organization. A copy of the Handbook is sent to the freshmen during the summer so that they may have time to acquaint themselves with the academic and social life awaiting them.

Positions on the Handbook staff are open to members of the three underclasses. The editor and assistant editor are chosen by the current Handbook board upon recommendations by the faculty adviser, Mrs. Martha Wright. The staff works throughout the year to assure complete coverage of University life.

MARCHING BAND

Sporting new maroon uniforms and white bucks, the Marching Band appeared at seven of the eight football games this fall. Cooperating with the Drill Team, the band combined snappy music with drill routines and precision marching. Drum Major Don Pierce led the band, which also appeared at four rallies and at the Pittsfield Hallowe'en celebration. Joseph Contino of the Music Department was responsible for the fine direction which made the band a bigger success than ever. All the members must be applauded, however, for "distinguished service" in the field of rally pep and school spirit.

DANCE BAND

The University Dance Band numbered seventeen pieces this year and was in great demand by sponsors of various campus dances. Versatility has made this group particularly popular, for while their dance music is soft and smooth, they render jazz and bop with equal finesse.

They departed from their usual musical program to present an all-jazz concert, and were rewarded by enthusiastic campus approval. Herb Belkin served as student director, and vocalist Rita Zarrella continued as soloist.

The 35-piece University Concert Band, once again under the supervision of Joseph Contino, added to its increasing popularity through fine performances both on and off campus this year. Its winter concerts in December and March were successful, while the traditional Parents Weekend program was especially well received by students and parents, who have come to look forward to it as one of the most enjoyable events of the entire weekend.

Popular marches, current concert favorites, and carefully selected traditional band pieces lent pleasing variety to the Concert Band's performances.

STATESMEN

The Statesmen are unquestionably one of the most popular musical groups on campus. The demand for entertainment by this double quartet often results in impromptu performances at parties or wherever its members are spotted, for each Statesman is well known even without his familiar checked vest for identification.

Among opportunities to enjoy this close-harmony group on campus this year were the Campus Chest dance and Showboat, while their off-campus appearances resulted in many miles of travel as well as valuable public relations service to the University.

The Statesmen sang at several alumni meetings in Western Massachusetts and gave a concert for the Knights of Columbus in Amherst. At Christmas they made a significant contribution to the holiday spirit by caroling all over campus where they were received with special ovation at the girls' dorms.

Variety of repertoire enhances the general musical excellence of the Statesmen. They are careful in planning each program to select the songs which will best suit the mood and tastes of their audience, which explains much of these songsters' consistent appeal and popularity.

OPERETTA GUILD

DORIC ALVIANI, Director

ROBERT McCARTNEY, Assistant Director

The Operetta Guild has developed from just another extra-curricular activity to one of the University's best public relations mediums: few campus organizations can match its off-campus esteem.

Every Operetta Guild production within the experience of the present student body has been greeted with sellout performances—first Brigadoon, still regarded by many as a pace-setter, then The Student Prince, The Vagabond King, and this year Carousel. This was the New England premiere of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical based on Liliom.

OPERETTA GUILD

Carousel was done with the finesse and general excellence we have come to expect from the Operetta Guild. The critics' reviews were again complimentary, and the entire University took pride in receiving Mr. Rodgers and Mr. Hammerstein when they visited campus shortly afterwards to attend a special convocation held in their honor, at which they received honorary degrees.

The Operetta Guild claimed another first last May when, in connection with Chorale, it gave the collegiate premiere of Lost In The Stars, an adaptation of Alan Paton's novel Cry, The Beloved Country.

This year the Guild added a world premiere performance to its impressive list of achievements with the one-act opera based on an American folk theme, Boney Quillen.

In November the Guild assisted the Amherst Community Opera organization in its production of Carallieria Rusticana, while its final performance was again in conjunction with Chorale in Down In The Valley.

The success of the Operetta Guild rests on a great deal of hard work by a large number of people, for the varied tasks attendant to the production of an operetta require many workers in addition to the cast.

CHORALE

Back Row: Littlewood, Laird, Clapp, Ball, Buttaro, Purrington, Lindbom, Finley, Sedgwick, McLaughlin, Carroll, Powers
Second Row: Ames, Farwell, Murdock, Taylor, Campbell, Wellington, Campbell, Landell, Neff, Falvey
Center: Dorie Alviani

Outside recognition as well as campus recognition spoke for the success of the University Chorale again this year. Requests from the Massachusetts public for concerts that could not be met were indicative of the great following the Chorale has built up for itself during the past few years. By purchasing new uniform jackets for the men, the campus expressed its appreciation of the valuable public relations service the Chorale rendered the entire University.

This year's tour included Milton, Randolph, Concord, and other nearby Massachusetts towns. Concerts for large business groups such as the New England Milk Producers' Association constituted the majority of the Chorale's many public appearances, but campus audiences had many opportunities to enjoy performances, too. As in the past, the Chorale aided the Operetta Guild as the mainstay of the chorus for Carousel, and many of the important roles were played by Chorale members.

Faure's Requiem was presented on the anniversary of VE-Day as a tribute to World War dead, and was hailed as one of Chorale's outstanding special programs of the year.

HARMONAIRES

Front Row: Maziarz, Sillars, Jones, Ireland, Axt, Sherwood, Steere

The popularity of the Harmonaires belies its short existence as the official singing organization for freshmen women. It was formed only three years ago when people realized that campus music-lovers were missing out on considerable talent simply because freshmen were not eligible for membership in the University Chorale.

Fifteen girls were selected from many candidates to sing in the Harmonaires this year. Jacqueline Jones served as student manager, and Norman Farwell directed the group. Christmas Vespers and Parents' Weekend were the outstanding campus affairs in which the Harmonaires participated.

ROISTER DOISTERS

The Roister-Doisters is the University dramatic organization and is open to all students who are interested in any aspect of the theatre. Each year they present two major productions which combine the talents of scores of theatre enthusiasts from campus who prepare for the actual performance months in advance. Publicity, staging, costumes, and many other details of putting on a successful play in addition to the arduous rehearsal schedule, claim the time and efforts of Roister-Doister members.

The Roister-Doister year started off favorably in November with Maxwell Anderson's Elizabeth the Queen. Shirley Hastings was outstanding in the title role, while the production itself was one of the best ever presented by the RD's.

The Roister-Doisters' steady growth in stature as well as in numbers was reflected in their selection and skillful execution of Karel Capek's R.U.R. as their second important play. A large and approving Parents' Weekend audience appreciated the quality of drama represented by R.U.R. Equally well-received were the February inter-class plays. The freshmen presented A Mad Breakfast; sophomores, Antic Spring; juniors, Box and Cox; and seniors, Fog on the Valley.

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

The Concert Association is a group organized to provide entertainment for students, University personnel, and the public. All students automatically become members of the association upon registration each semester with the payment of the Academic Activities tax.

The Executive Board of the Concert Association arranges concerts; it has adhered to high standards of entertainment in its selection of artists.

Executive Board membership in the Association is open to all students who apply. The final selection is subject to Executive Board approval.

The successful series this year included Stan Kenton and his band, Alec Templeton, the Helsinki University Chorus, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Antal Dorati, and Risë Stevens.

Each concert was attended by an enthusiastic capacity audience which was particularly pleased when Stan Kenton honored requests from the audience and when the director of the Helsinki Chorus spoke briefly but impressively at intermission about music as the universal language and as a cementing bond between Finland and the United States. All were thrilled at the Chorus' only departure from their native tongue as they sang The Star Spangled Banner to open the program, and later the University was honored by the conferring of honorary membership in the Helsinki Chorus on Professor Doric Alviani. Concert Association Manager Charles Gaetz was made an associate member.

These concerts are eagerly anticipated by all, for everyone has come to depend on the Concert Association's high-quality contributions to the cultural offerings of the University year.

STUDENT SENATE

This year the Senate instituted a new policy of representation. It was decided that senators-at-large from campus were to be elected, thereby giving senators who had previously shown ability and students who were outstanding leaders an opportunity to be elected by the entire student body. These students competed for the positions of senators-at-large much as candidates campaign for class offices. The senators-at-large policy has added many worthwhile leaders to our student government.

The Senate had a successful year under the capable leadership of its officers: John Heintz, president; Rita Katz, vice-president; and Joan Larwood, secretary. Standing committees were formed—finance, activities, curriculum, public relations, athletics, buildings and grounds, boarding halls, and elections—and new committees were also organized. Among these was the Honor Commission, which has been investigating the advantages and disadvantages of an honor system on this campus.

will increase the number of cars on campus. The Senate sent representatives to the New England Student Government Congress where they gained valuable information on methods of student government used in other schools in New England.

Additional activities of the Senate included the soliciting of contributions for the Campus Chest Drive, sale of the University calendar, the promotion of less expensive textbooks, and agitation for better campus roads and sidewalks.

In addition, a committee on social affairs was formed to help evaluate and improve social life. The Constitutional Revision Committee which was set up last year continued its work.

This year the Senate provided new band uniforms and blazers for the Chorale members, being aware that a well-dressed Band and Chorale were valuable as publicity for the University. The Senate has also been seeking to enlarge the University parking area, especially since next year's enrollment will include a great many veterans who

COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Back Row: Mr. Procopio, Premo, Mills, Bailey, Reagan, Miss Totman, Mrs. Davey, Mr. Culbertson
Front Row: Mr. Varley, Kehoe, Bowler, Katz, Miss Curtis, Mr. Leavitt, Tuttle

This committee was reorganized during the past year from the Student Life Committee. Its eight faculty members were chosen by the provost while the Senate named the ten student members. Its function is advisory to the president on all social functions, whether of a temporary or permanent nature; and the committee holds the responsibility of providing a varied and well balanced social activities program. The students and faculty involved proved to be mutually understanding and cooperative.

COMMITTEE ON RECOGNIZED ACTIVITIES

Back Row: Feingold, Woodbury, Russell, Marks, Miller, Pearse
Middle Row: Bowler, Brox, Mr. Dickinson, Mr. Brown, Merkin, Jack, Adams, Juszkiewicz
Front Row: Cole, Miss Curtis, Everest, Mr. Ludtke, Miss Larkin, Mr. Leavitt, Krikorian
Absent: Dean Robert Hopkins

This committee, composed of eleven faculty members and fifteen students, was formed from the old Academic Activities Committee. It acts as advisory to the president on all organizations and extracurricular activities of students requiring charter or financial sanction by the Student Government and approval by the president. It submits an annual report to the president and has drawn up a philosophy of conduct in its effort to provide regulation and equal opportunity for all.

WOMEN'S JUDICIARY

The Women's Judiciary Board is composed of five women students who have been elected by vote of all the women on campus. It interprets and enforces the rules and regulations concerning conduct of women students. Its primary concern is with those cases which are above the jurisdiction of the women's dormitories. As a part of the University's General Court, it is an important unit of student government on this campus. In cases requiring constitutional interpretation, the Women's Judiciary holds a joint session with the Men's Division.

LeClaire, Conroy, Manley

MEN'S JUDICIARY

The Men's Division of the University General Court of Justice interprets and enforces regulations concerning the conduct of men students. In a separate court it handles the large number of traffic violations on campus. The Men's and Women's Judiciaries hold joint meetings on decisions which concern constitutional questions rather than on those concerning misconduct of students. The Student Senate co-operates with both groups in making regulations and in setting up rules for meetings of the boards. The members are elected by all men students on campus.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association welcomes students of all faiths into membership; it works with the denominational groups and with the Chaplain's Council. This year, as in the past, the Association sponsored the Freshmen Cabin Party, day conferences, weekly vesper services, coffee hours, and a first annual spring retreat.

NEWMAN CLUB

Catholic approaches to social, educational, and religious phases of student life are examined at the well-attended meetings of the Newman Club. Outside lecturers and a series of movies added professional information and entertainment to the season, which was climaxed by the annual spring retreat and Communion Breakfast.

Power, Parnin, Morse, Miss Garvey

Standing: Freeling, Mr. Saehar, Cohen
Seated: Schwimmer, Stern, Bass

Judson Fellowship

Baptist college students from both the University and Amherst College participate in Judson Fellowship activities. A series of discussion groups, meetings, and varied social events was enjoyed by the members during the past year and was climaxed by the yearly retreat.

Standing: Buezala, Wolfe
Seated: Pastor Leverenz, Gustavsen

Hillel Foundation

The Hillel Foundation serves the religious, social, and intellectual needs of Jewish students and strives for inter-faith cooperation. The group organized Sunday night suppers, dances, debates, and movies, a Chanukah Festival in the fall, and a Purim Festival in the spring. Classes in Jewish history were offered.

King, Mr. Sanctuary, Crooks

Lutheran Club

Lutheran students are invited each year to join the Lutheran Club, an organization which endeavors to create a deep fellowship and understanding among Lutheran college students. This year, as in previous years, the club sponsored monthly meetings and discussion groups for its members.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation attempts to help Methodist students apply Christian ideals to religious, social, and economic problems which occur during their college careers and will occur during their later lives. Weekly social events and meetings are scheduled for the members during the winter months.

Standing: Mr. Lauriat, Fogg, Mrs. Pearson
Seated: Briggs, Wadsworth, Fedoryshyn

Edwards Fellowship

Students of Congregational and Presbyterian denominations participate in Edwards Fellowship activities. The group strives to impart the Christian way of life to its members, and this year a lecture series on marriage, entitled "Are You Fit to be Tied?" was sponsored by the organization.

Standing: Evensen, Larson
Seated: MacInnis, Felton

Channing Club

Unitarians and other religious liberals are welcomed as Channing Club members. The group offers weekly meetings and this year sponsored suppers, worship services, speakers, and a Unitarian question box. Discussion sessions were held and a special study of church history was made by the members.

Standing: Hathaway, Hart, Goslee, Kinsley
Seated: Siddall, Holbrook, Jackson

Mr. Ricci, McLellan

Chrysostom Society

The Chrysostom Society was founded with the intention of organizing all students of the Orthodox faith and furthering understanding of their common religion. The activities program this year included several guest speakers, a spring picnic, and a dance. In addition the members attended church several times as a group.

Standing: Siddall, Boyden
Seated: Dr. Temple, Felton

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club at the U. of M. is a part of the National Canterbury Association and welcomes students of Episcopal faith into membership. The organization strives by meetings, discussions and social events to keep the students in touch with their church and Christian ideals.

Standing: Bellas, Mr. Markakis
Seated: Platsis, Swide, Kofos

Chaplain's Council

The Chaplain's Council is the central planning board for all campus activities of a Protestant nature, also serving for the advice and counsel of the Protestant Chaplain. Among the activities sponsored by the Council are Christmas Vespers, Lenten Communions, Religious Convocation Day, and the Christian Activities Fund.

of the 1953-54 season were a talk by Professor Theodore Caldwell of the University faculty, who spent a recent sabbatical in England; a lecture on German relations by Professor Karl Loewenstein of Amherst College; a discussion on "International Morality versus Power Politics" by a panel of faculty members; and a lecture by Frederick L. Schuman.

Because of the current international situation and growing interest in world affairs, the International Relations Club membership has been steadily increasing.

The International Relations Club strives to develop among the student body an active interest in the study of international affairs. The club is composed of foreign as well as American students, who exchange information and aim to promote good will and understanding.

In an effort to promote interest in the club, trips and panel discussions were held; guest speakers of American and international fame, were enjoyed by the members.

MOUNT TOBY

Work at the Mount Toby Reservation, destined one day to be a campus recreation center, this year resulted in the completion of a parking lot to accommodate 150 automobiles. A shelter, tables, and fireplaces had been installed the previous year.

Preparation of a swimming beach was started, but the actual student swimming area will not be completed until the project receives the necessary funds from a class gift or other source.

One of the most popular events at Mount Toby this year was a Mountain Day held in the fall when students and faculty enjoyed a picnic lunch supplied by Draper, a tour of the mountain, and sporting events. A similar barbecue outing was planned for the spring.

Bringing Mount Toby to its present degree of development demanded countless hours of plain hard work. Supporters of the Mount Toby Recreation Project spent many week-ends, holidays, and even vacations cutting brush, clearing picnic areas, blazing trails, building the shelter—and, incidentally, getting tired, lame, cut, and very dirty.

Their efforts and the support of other campus groups were well worth-while, however, in building and organizing recreational facilities, and use of the Mount Toby recreational center will soon be an integral part of campus life.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Anybody bring the salt?

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, whose members are all former Boy Scouts, again this year succeeded in fulfilling its objectives by performing many services to the campus and community.

Members of the fraternity repaired the bridge, originally constructed by them, at the brook near the athletic field. Among numerous service projects were ushering at basketball games, monitoring campus bulletin boards, and generally helping out wherever needed.

football and basketball games have been broadcast by the station.

In addition to recorded music and a "Master Works" program nightly, the station rebroadcasts news from station WQXR in New York.

About fifty people make up the staff this year with Ann Freeman as station manager, Robert Hartwell, program director, Joe Larson, technical director, and George Allen, treasurer.

WMUA always welcomes new personnel, for the duties of its staff are so many and varied that any skill or interest can be put to good use.

LA MAISON FRANÇAISE

A group of twenty girls, including two exchange students from France, occupy the first floor of the Abigail Adams house — a section known as "La Maison Française." They enjoy French discussions in an attempt to acquire a broader knowledge of the country, the language, and the people.

Every Thursday it is the custom of the girls to eat together at Butterfield, and converse in French throughout the meal. Not only at this time — but as often as possible — they practice French, aiming to master the language.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club aims at promoting interest in Spain and the Spanish speaking countries, and stimulating interest in their customs, culture and history. The members enjoy Spanish films, songs, and lectures at meetings, and hold several parties during the year.

Standing: Mr. Lee, Stoney, Burnham
Seated: Wyman, Moser

French Club

The purpose of the French Club is to acquire a broader knowledge of French culture. Its monthly meetings at the Farley Club House are conducted entirely in French.

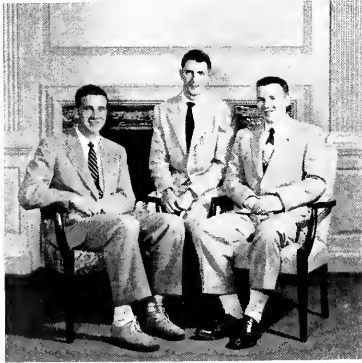

The pageant put on by the club was a highlight of Christmas week, and its annual dance, The Café Rendez-vous, was its usual success.

Standing: Bernatowicz, Bevilaqua, DeMello
Seated: Zarrella, Beroll, Miss Tillona

German Club

The German Club offers students the opportunity to supplement their class work with practice in speaking German and to increase their knowledge of German customs and culture. This year the club traveled to Smith and Mt. Holyoke Colleges for joint meetings, and attended several German movies at Amherst College.

Garnett, Glinka, Bailey

A. S. M. E.

The student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at the University finds that contact with graduate engineers and members of other branches of the organization at its meetings is illuminating, and it strives to achieve a broader compass of information by this means.

Standing: Wilde
Seated: Reeves, Tierney, George

A. I. E. E.

The A.I.E.E., a student branch of the national American Institute of Electrical Engineers, aims at giving students a broader view of the field of professional electrical engineering. Speakers at monthly meetings contributed their knowledge and ideas.

Standing: Hildebrandt, Hall
Seated: Towers, Butler

A. S. C. E.

This is a professional club chartered by the American Society of Civil Engineers to foster interest in civil engineering. Membership is open to all undergraduate students who are interested. Topics of professional interest are presented by prominent engineers and discussed by the students.

Agricultural Engineering Club

Active both on and off campus, this club is a student branch of the American Society of Agriculture Engineers. It contributes to the National Journal of ASAE, has at its meetings outside speakers and student reporters, and participates in the annual Engineering Open House.

Standing: Hayden, Stengle
Seated: Chadwick, Davis

Arboriculture Club

The members of the Arboriculture Club are afforded an opportunity of becoming acquainted with representatives of various utility companies in Western Massachusetts as well as with owners of public and private tree companies. Occasional field-trips helped to round out its program.

Miner, Mr. Stapleton, Cornfoot

Animal Husbandry

One of the major accomplishments of the Animal Husbandry Club is the sponsorship of the annual Little International Livestock Show here on campus. Programs for its monthly meetings include guest speakers, student reports about placement offers, and movies on field trips, jobs, and livestock conservation.

Standing: Brown, Mr. King, Kilbourn
Seated: Smith, Howard

Bacteriology and Public Health Club

During monthly meetings members of this organization further their interest in bacteriology, public health, and medical technology. Authorities from these various fields offer counsel concerning opportunities in these professions. The full program is balanced by social events, such as holiday parties and picnics.

Standing: Stutzman, Reagan
Seated: Wilkinson, Coenen

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club is composed of chemistry majors and is a student affiliate of the American Chemical Society. The professional atmosphere afforded by this club helps its members to increase their knowledge of activities in the field of chemistry. Meetings proved popular and were well attended.

Phillips, Mr. Mandel, Sowyrda, Gerson

Business Administration Club

This club represents a coordinate effort of faculty and students to discuss topics such as advertising, merchandising, and labor relations. Guest speakers are invited to the meetings in order to familiarize its members with current problems and policies in the business world.

Standing: Hendricks, Barr, Mr. Ritchie, Cogan
Seated: Dolan, Sullivan

Standing: Ruschetta, Petruzella
Seated: Bell, Saydlowski

Amateur Radio Association

Anyone interested in amateur radio is welcome at the Radio Club's meetings in the engineering building, for membership is not restricted to campus residents. Members contact ham operators all over the world, and soon the club hopes to offer a free message service from campus to anywhere.

Standing: Lawler, Mr. Spense, Mr. Smith
Seated: Mello, Tumej, McCarthy

I. Z. F. A.

I.Z.F.A. (Intercollegiate Zionist Federation of America) activities, of a political nature, are based on the realization that the maintenance of the Jewish homeland and the strengthening of ties, by every possible means, between American and Israeli Jewry are essential to the creative regeneration of the Jewish people.

Standing: Levenson, Maltz, Simon
Seated: Rosen, Pavony

Jewell, Waterhouse

Dairy Club

University as well as Stockbridge dairy students were members of this club which united future herdsmen to discuss present and past developments in their field. Speakers, movies, and earnest discussions were climaxed by a banquet in the spring to round out their program.

Standing: Mr. Roberts, Schlafman, Parsons
Seated: Frazer, Allison

Chess Club

Every Thursday night in Old Chapel Seminar a group of chess enthusiasts met for their regular meeting. Non-club members were invited to join in the matches or to come and learn to play. The experts matched wits with Amherst and Holy Cross Colleges and with the faculty.

Standing: Mr. Hankinson, Gilmartin, Erickson
Seated: Taylor, Eaton, Chambers

DeMolay Club

This young club on campus has already become well known throughout the state for arousing interest in fraternal activities. After establishing itself as a chartered chapter during the past year it obtained the power to initiate on its own. It then traveled throughout the state installing local officers.

Economics Honor Society

The Economics Honor Society met for the purpose of helping Economics honor students plan and prepare their theses. The Society is composed of graduate students and of seniors and juniors who have attained an average of 80 or above.

Wood, Rev. Hastings

Fernald Entomology Club

The whats, whys, and wherefores of Entomology were examined through movies and speakers at the monthly meetings of this group in an effort at greater appreciation and wider knowledge of the subject. Social events added a light touch to the activities.

Standing: Nyberg, Mr. Morris
Seated: Tattlebaum, Mapes

Education Club

"What will I do if this situation arises?" — Future teacher members of the club asked questions like this while discussing trends in education and problems which they were likely to face in years to come, hoping to gain knowledge which would help them in their careers and aid in raising educational standards.

Standing: Eachen, List, Parsons
Seated: Flint, Savos

Standing: Toohy, Cannon
Seated: Fall, Woods, Birch

Food Tech Club

Both graduate and undergraduate students join this club, which has been accredited by the professional society and is the charter chapter of the Institute of Food Technology. Speakers and social events provide knowledge and relaxation to those interested in this field.

Groff, Bruso, Harrison, Nason

Floriculture Club

Planning and preparing exhibits for the annual Horticulture Show kept members of the Floriculture Club busy early in the year, but later manual labor was replaced by serious study of the technical and vocational aspects of their field. Guest speakers gave important assistance to the program.

Standing: Watts, Resnick
Seated: Powers, Bedrosian

Forestry Club

The Forestry Club, providing students with an opportunity to build up their informal professional background, schedules speakers on all phases of forestry and participates in the annual Horticulture Show. Another activity looked forward to by all members is the gala annual spring picnic.

Standing: Denver, Martin, Miss Howell
Seated: Alessio, Turner

4-H Club

After a period of voluntary inactivity first semester, the 4-H Club reorganized in January and conducted a successful program throughout the remainder of the year. This club affords 4-H'ers an opportunity to continue their pre-college association with 4-H work.

Future Farmers of America

Membership in the Stimpson Heald Collegiate Chapter is open to those who have been members of secondary school chapters and to those who are training to become vocational agriculture teachers. Professor Oliver advises this club, which functions to develop competent, aggressive rural leadership.

Standing: Leveille, Murdy, Wiles
Seated: Kenniston, Stiles

Mr. Johansson, Sullivan, Costello, LaFreniere

Geology Club

This club does not restrict its membership to majors; it offers speakers and always enjoyable field trips for the instruction of the members. A Christmas party with the geology fraternity and a joint meeting with the geology clubs of Smith, Amherst, Williams, and Mt. Holyoke completed the year.

Home Economics Club

The project of the club this year was to raise money to send Marie Peterson, next year's state president, to the convention in California. Publication of the Skin-ner Scoop was continued and speakers, socials, and the annual banquet and picnic were enjoyed.

Standing: Peck, Mrs. Theis
Seated: Broude, Barnard

Land Architecture Club

The club consists largely of majors in Landscape Architecture who meet twice monthly to discuss their field and to make suggestions to the department where they think they would be valuable, a situation made possible by the close connection between the club and the department.

Standing: Miss Davis, Hall, Miss Hawes
Seated: Lewis, Erickson, Dewar

Omicron Nu

This honor society for home economics majors is now in its second year of organization. It offers extensive tutorial assistance to students in the department, but it has a non-academic personality, too, which this year found expression in an international dinner and a fashion show.

Standing: Mr. Hamilton, Stiles
Seated: Leaver, Ruder, Bonney

Math Club

The Math Club is a student organization, formed, run, and financed by the students. Programs during the year feature student speakers, visiting faculty, or professional men. The club sponsors a state-wide competition for high-school students and publishes the Integrator during the school year.

Ruf. Mr. Johnson, Skibiski

Physical Education Club

Physical education majors enjoyed an unusual addition to their regular program of movies and speakers this year by taking part in the International Physical Congress, which was held here. The Club continued to pursue its general aim of promoting interest in physical education.

Standing: DeLand, Mr. Skillings
Seated: Perrino, Keefe, Peterson

Olericulture Club

For the uninitiated, olericulture has to do with vegetable growing on a business scale. Through the Olericulture Club, members become acquainted with the latest methods in the industry at monthly meetings which feature guest speakers who are among the outstanding men in the field.

DiVincenzo, Mr. Ricci, Costello, Damon

Holbrook, Ralston, Darras, Utman, Allaire

Pomology Club

The Pomology Club supplements its general aims of stimulating and maintaining interest in pomology by dispersing current occupational information, acquainting its members with outstanding professional pomologists, and sponsoring occasional social events, sometimes in conjunction with the Olericulture Club.

Latour, Falconieri, Albert

Outing Club

A packed program conducted at a pace that would leave the chair-rockers breathless characterizes the Outing Club. The outdoor enthusiasts who keep this organization so active sponsor week-end ski trips, mountain climbing days, campouts, and hikes, in addition to regular meetings.

Haeseler, Brunetti, Mr. Roberts, Tuttle

Rod and Gun Club

The Rod and Gun Club is the activity for anyone interested in hunting, fishing, and all kinds of wild life. Movies and speakers are obtained by the club in an effort to learn more about conservation and game areas. With increased membership the club went on hunting trips and sponsored the annual spring intercollegiate fly casting competition.

PRE-MED CLUB

A constantly growing organization, the Pre-Med Club has made its influence felt on campus in fostering increased knowledge of medical subjects and realization of the importance of medicine in the world. Its officers and particularly capable advisor have helped stimulate discussion among the faculty and members at the regular social and professional meetings, where speakers frequently introduced authoritative material for discussion on topics of interest.

Poultry Science Club

The program of practical business meetings mixed with informal social affairs proved a pleasant and worthwhile combination by which to disseminate information and arouse interest and participation. Speakers, discussions, and activities rounded out the local functioning of the club, and membership in the National Collegiate Poultry Science Club added a broad national outlook.

Sociology Club

This club provides informal monthly meetings designed for sociability and varied discussions of the fields of sociology, social work, and social problems. Panels, guest speakers, and joint meetings with other clubs are included in the year's programming, which is climaxed by the annual picnic.

Lee, Gobbi, Nava, Silva

Standing: Miss Hubbard, Davis, Jackson
Seated: Kijanowski, Smith, Kaligian

Pep Band

The Varsity Pep Band, a component of University Bands, is a newly formed group of twenty enthusiastic musicians. With Don Hanson as manager they brought music of all kinds to the home basketball games, the Clark game in Worcester, and to Winter Carnival.

Standing: Caverly, Lombard
Seated: Woodward, Hanson, Turner

STATETTES

The Statettes are made up of twenty-one sophomore girls, most of whom were, as freshmen, members of the Harmonaires. Their interest in learning more about group singing and musical variations led to the organization of this group as an official Class of

'56 project. Bill Finley, a music major, is student director of this group of sophomores. This feminine version of the Statesmen exhibited their ability at Christmas Vespers, a Fine Arts program in March, and a spring program.

Press Club

Press Club members are ultimately responsible for giving the University much of its publicity. Composed of student correspondents to city newspapers and the directors of the Home Town News Bureau, the Club distributes University news. Their meetings provide an opportunity to talk over common press problems.

Psychology Club

The Club provided an opportunity for those interested in psychology and psychiatry to develop their knowledge through the enlightening talks of speakers and the exchange of ideas among the members. Job opportunities and progress in the field also received attention at the meetings.

AIR CADET SQUADRON

The Air Cadet Squadron is affiliated with the Massachusetts Air Cadet Group and United States Air Cadet Wing. Its purpose is "to advance the military preparedness and protection of our country; to increase knowledge of the scope and mission of the Air Force; and to provide training in leadership and other attributes essential to future commissioned officers and citizens."

Any member of the University's Air Force ROTC with the qualifying grade in Air Science is eligible for membership.

The organization is run by seven staff members, along with a faculty advisor: Commander, William Sturtevant; Executive Officer, Mark Rand; Personnel Officer, Phil Kuzmeski; Operations Officer, Larry Webber; Supply Officer, Don Lee; Public Information Officer, Tom Prince; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Bill Barnard.

The Squadron sponsors the AFROTC Drill Team, and carries out a training program of lectures and talks by qualified personnel at meetings held twice monthly.

committed five errors to lose, 6-3. Don Swanson was the loser and Pedigree had two hits.

The Redmen traveled to Boston College where they pounced on B. C. for five runs in the first four innings to sew up the ball game by a score of 5-1. Tarpey had a shutout going into the ninth, but Boston College tallied once to break it up.

UMass then traveled to Williams and suffered its worst defeat of the season, 8-1. After scoring one run in the first inning, the Redmen remained scoreless for the remainder of the game. MacKenzie, Fautette, and Corkum all pitched for the losers.

In the first game of a doubleheader, Vermont beat Mass. by a score of 2-1. Mass. retaliated by winning the nightcap by an identical score. Yogi Wisnewski and Phil Tarpey starred for the UMies. Yogi drove in the winning run in the fourth inning with a long double.

Tarpey won his third straight ball game by turning back A.I.C., 3-2. Pedigree's single in the last half of the ninth was the deciding blow. The win gave the Redmen a season record of seven victories and four defeats. U. of M. then traveled to Medford and eked out a 4-3 victory over the stubborn Tufts Jumbos. Tarpey started and was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh inning. Joe Faucette came on to gain credit for the victory. Rabioli with four hits, Driscoll with three hits, and Lajoie with two doubles provided the batting punch for the victors.

The Redmen defeated W.P.I. by a score of 3-0 behind the pitching of Don Swanson. Swanny gave up nine walks, but left fifteen men on base. Akerson was the hitting star with two singles.

In the most important game of the season, the Redmen traveled to Worcester to play the Holy Cross Crusaders. The Crusaders defeated the Redmen in a thrilling ball game by a score of 2-1. Mass. scored first on a single, error, and a long fly ball in the first inning.

I. retaliated by shutting out the Redmen behind the one-hit pitching of Don Stenhouse, who faced twenty-two men in seven innings to win, 3-0. MacKenzie suffered the defeat, while giving up only seven hits.

As the season neared completion, Swanson defeated Northeastern by a score of 4-2, in what proved to be the Redmen's last victory of the season. In the final two games of the season against Amherst, Massachusetts lost both games. Phil Tarpey lost another tough-luck ball game by a score of 2-1. Two days later, Don Swanson lost a thrilling 1-0 ball game in twelve innings before a capacity crowd of graduating Seniors. The UMies finished the season with a record of eleven victories against eight defeats.

Under the leadership of Coach Mel Massucco, who started his first year as coach of the Freshman squad, the Redmen Freshmen compiled one of the finest records a freshman team has ever made.

The team record of six victories and two defeats was marred only by losses to Springfield and Trinity. The wins came at the expense of Monson Academy, Worcester Academy, Amherst, Malden High School, Nichols Junior College, and Williams College Freshmen.

Lacrosse entered its sophomore year with a rough schedule. The team, though not yet on varsity status, showed tremendous spirit and drive. The high point of the year occurred against Lowell Textile, when Bill Moffitt scored six goals and assisted in one other. The informal club finished the season with a record of two victories and four losses.

The spring of 1954 will mark the first year that lacrosse will be a varsity sport, and with eleven returning veterans, Coach Ricci looks forward to a good year. The schedule will include Amherst, M.I.T., and Trinity.

Mass.'s first loss came against R.P.I. by a score of 7-2. Only MacLeod and Simpson could win their matches. The Yankee Conference followed, and proved very costly to the UMies. John Murray, the number three man, twisted his ankle and was out for the remainder of the season. Murray was forced to forfeit his matches in both singles and doubles. Without Murray, the "Racketeers" could gain no better than a fourth place.

Massachusetts regained its winning ways against Vermont, defeating the Catamounts by a score of 6-3. The Redmen then lost two straight matches to Springfield and Tufts. The Indians defeated Mass., 5-4. The Jumbos from Medford defeated the Maroon and White by a score of 7-2. The Netmen came back strong as the season closed to upend Worcester Tech, 5-4. In the final match of the year the Redmen really poured it on hapless A.I.C. Mass. won every match, shutting out the Aces, 9-0. Prospects for next year are very good.

The Redmen won their lone dual meet at the expense of Worcester Tech. Frank Barous and

The following Saturday, the University of Connecticut invaded Alumni Field in the first home game of the season, and romped by a score of 41-0. UConn scored at will against a bewildered Massachusetts team that fell apart at the seams.

The third game was a thriller all the way, but Springfield College emerged on top by a score of 20-7. The Redmen made a valiant attempt to win this game, but the weak pass defense of Massachusetts could not stop the sharp-shooting of Springfield's passers.

The University of Rhode Island traveled to Amherst, and gave the UMies a third straight shellacking. Spearheaded by Pat Abruzzo and Sam Pina, Rhodie rolled over the Redmen by a score of 41-14. Rhode Island, one of the top teams among all New England schools, was simply too much for the undermanned Mass squad.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Lew Derby's cross country team was the highlight of the fall sports program. The Harriers won the New England cross country championship and the Yankee Conference championship. The team placed second in the Connecticut Valley championships, and won five out of six dual meets. The only dual meet loss was to Yale.

The squad was led by two seniors, Co-captains Harry Aldrich and Hank Knapp. The rest of the squad was composed of sophomores—Bob Horn, Pete Conway.

and Will Lepkowski. The success of the team was due to the combined efforts of its members, and amazing balance in performance was shown at all times. The season opened with an  $18\frac{1}{2}$ - $36\frac{1}{2}$  win over Amherst. Aldrich and Horn tied for first place, with Conway third, Lepkowski and Knapp sixth and seventh respectively. Two days later the team journeyed to Boston to meet Boston College. Five Redmen broke the tape at the same time to give Massachusetts a perfect 15-48 victory. A repeat of the Boston College meet was staged when the team raced Worcester Tech for a victory.

The freshman cross country team enjoyed fair success this year under the guidance of Coach Lou Derby. The UMie harriers opened the season with a triple meet at Medford, finishing second to a strong Jumbo club. The freshmen then traveled to Cambridge, where they were defeated by a fine John Harvard club. Bobby Brown was the only Redman to finish in the top ten.

Massachusetts dropped its third straight meet to rival Mount Hermon Academy by a score of 19-38. The Redmen finally broke into the win column against Williams by a score of 26-31. The Derbymen won their second straight meet by defeating cross-town rival Amherst by a score of 26-31.

In the Connecticut Valley championship, the Mass. yearlings finished second behind the Springfield Gymnasts. In the New Englands, the Freshman Squad finished sixth, behind powerful Providence. In the final race of the year, the freshmen lost to the Yale Frosh by a score of 27-28.

In the next three matches, the UMies were only able to salvage a tie with the Huskies of UConn. The Redmen won their next two matches, but were sadly outplayed by Springfield, 6-0. Massachusetts

DRILL TEAM

From 175 candidates last spring were selected an enthusiastic 30 girls, who were rewarded for their long and tedious practice by the universal acclaim of the University and other audiences before which they appeared. Drill Captain Nancy Pond Hastings led the girls in a new precision step with which they delighted and entertained the spectators at half-time shows at seven out of eight games this season.

Well prepared by Drill Master

Clem Burlingame, assisted by Bob Russell, the Drill Team also found time to march at rallies and at the Pittsfield Hallowe'en celebration. The girls in grey and white will long be remembered by nostalgic alumni for their superior performances in the fall. This year the Team demonstrated its versatility by introducing a little carefully planned clowning into their snappy routines to successfully add humor to their always impressive performance.

DRUM MAJORETTES—CHEERLEADERS

Enlarging their squad to seven members, the University twirlers appeared this year in new uniforms of white corduroy trimmed with Indian motifs.

Parading smartly at football games and Friday night rallies, the group was led by Jean Tonks, who appeared with Marie Hanlon over television station WLP as guests of sports announcer Jerry Healy.

Six freshmen joined the cheer-leading squad, contributing significantly to the pep and enthusiasm at games and rallies. Veteran Sherry Richards captained the group, and Franny Jones and Alice Lee were awarded letters for their two previous years of service.

The cheerleaders initiated a popular pre-game novelty during the football season with a variety of spectacular arrivals on the scene. One of the more memorable entrances featured a fire-engine chauffeuring the slicker-clad squad out onto the field.

In addition to their regular appearances the group participated in "Meet the Brass," a program designed to acquaint the freshmen with the University.

What style

Sparkling, dynamic, superb—these were just a few of the words of praise heaped upon the 1953-54 Redmen quintet. Under the tutelage of Coach Bob Curran, the U Mass club racked up an impressive record of thirteen wins and nine defeats. This is the first winning record by U Mass cagers since 1941.

Coach Curran was faced with a different problem in preparing his club this year. He had only a few returning veterans and a scarcity of height. He had to depend heavily on a crew of able but inexperienced sophomores. By blending the know-how of co-captains John MacLeod and Bill Stephens with the talents of his sophomores, Curran built a strong team.

the victory trail in their first five games, and U Mass rooters forecasted another dismal season for the home forces. In the game against W.P.I. Curran's yearlings finally became accustomed to varsity ball, and the first victory of the year was registered. The U Mass hoopsters stayed on the winning path for the remainder of the schedule, losing only four of their last twelve games.

In analyzing the success of this year's team, bouquets have to be given to a multitude of people. Coach Curran deserves much praise for his skillful handling of the team in general. He employed a fast-break type offense to compensate for the lack of height. This fast break accounted for nine new records this year. Just a few of the records set include: most points in one game, eighty-two; highest point average in one season, 61.5; and most victories in one season, thirteen. The sophomore contingent of Eid, Aho, Skypeck and Berman is to be commended for its fine play in first-year varsity competition. Co-captains MacLeod and Stephens, along with Connie MacDonough, who was ineligible first semester because of the transfer rule, were important cogs in this year's Redmen machine.

BASKETBALL

What'll I do now, coach?

In Yankee Conference play the Curranmen finished second to a powerful U Conn club, which went on to the N.C.A.A. Tournament. The U Conn game, incidentally, was one of the highlights of the season. The Redmen, underdogs in the game, made a real contest out of it, and lost by only a small margin.

Next year's team should be even more potent than the fine squad this year. The sophomores will be back with a year of varsity experience, and this year's fine freshman squad will bolster the team. Coach Curran's task should be much easier next year, and the Redmen enthusiasts should experience a victorious season.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The freshman basketball squad, coached by Chet Gladehuk, enjoyed one of the finest seasons in the history of our school. Led by Jack Foley, the freshmen compiled a record of seven victories and four defeats against the best freshman squads in New England.

The squad opened the season with an impressive 78-53 victory over Northeastern. Following a tough 47-53 defeat at the hands of the Holy Cross yearlings, the Redmen racked off four straight victories. The Umies lost to Springfield, but bounced back to defeat Williams, 77-72. In the remaining three games the Yearlings defeated Clark, and lost to the Rhode Island and Connecticut freshmen.

INDOOR TRACK

Coach Lew Derby's varsity and freshman tracksters reached the end of another indoor season, and soon abandoned the boards for the cinders, with the advent of fair weather.

With a record of no wins, one tie, and three losses, the season must not necessarily be considered a complete failure. The Derbymen were hurt by lack of depth in the half-mile, quarter mile, and the field events.

The Derbymen fared much better in the distances, hurdles, and relay events. The outstanding performances of Harry Aldrich, Squeaky Horn, and Hank Knapp, in the two-mile left nothing to be desired in any of the meets. The climax of the trio's success came against Holy Cross, where they swept the event. In the mile it was Bill Hoss every time; and, finally hitting his stride against U.N.H., Captain Herbie Stone, with Paul Thomas and Howie Forman, was a consistent point-getter in the low and high hurdles, and the dash. It was Howie Forman in the high jump, hitting his peak against B.C., when he cleared six feet.

The season's losses were to Holy Cross, Boston College, and Providence College; and the tie was a nip and tuck affair with New Hampshire, resulting in a 38½-38½ deadlock.

The relay team of Ratyna, Lepkowski, Stone and McInnis placed second in their heat of the mile relay at the B.A.A. In the K. of C. meet, they were nosed out by Rhode Island and Maine, and finished third in the Yankee Conference relay.

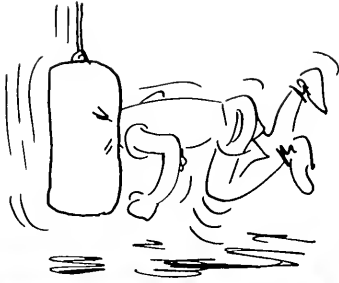

The Frosh impressively compiled a three, one, and one record, defeating New Hampshire, Holy Cross, and Worcester.

Leaders for the freshmen were Feingold and Osborne in the high jump, McCormick and Wright in the dashes, and Fred Steele in the middle dash. One other factor in the team's success was the mile relay team of Crawford, Wright, Steele, and McCormick, which consistently placed. The brightest speck for the Little Indians was Fred Steele, who amassed a grand total of  $43\frac{1}{2}$  points, and was the iron man of the squad. The relay team took a first in the B.A.A. against Rensselaer, Tufts, and Colby, thanks to the fine job of McCormick, who made up a ten-yard deficit and breezed to the finish far ahead of his nearest rival.

Coach Derby has high hopes for next season because of a strong freshman squad, and because the strength of his varsity squad this year was in the sophomores and juniors, who will be returning.

SWIMMING

Opening the season with a squad that consisted of only four veterans and nine untried sophomores, Coach Joe Rogers had an unenviable job ahead of him in attempting to build a winning swimming team.

The UMass tankmen opened their season favorably by submerging Boston University, 61-21,

Try this one sometime with seniors Captain Buster Campbell and Joe Rogers III along with sophomores Bob Gibbs, Bob Carson, and Tom Lyons doing the bulk of the scoring.

The following week the Redmen lost to an always powerful Amherst College team in the final relay. In their last meet before the Christmas vacation the Rogersmen downed R.P.I., 43-41. Sophomore Earl Kimball and junior Ed Hanson came through with timely points in this meet.

Wesleyan was the opponent in the first meet after vacation. That meet ended in one of the most exciting finishes seen here in many a moon, as Bob Gibbs, anchor man on the final relay, started out nine feet behind Fabian of the Wesmen and came within six inches of beating him.

SWIMMING

Then the Redmen really hit their stride, and won the next three straight in fairly easy fashion, romping over W.P.I., Tufts, and Coast Guard in that order.

An undefeated UConn team was the opponent for the last home meet of the season. They waltzed past the Redmen, 59-25. Four days later, however, the Rogers-men came back with a vengeance and topped a good Bowdoin team, 50-34, thus giving the Redmen a season's record of 6-3 — the best since Joe Rogers' great 1942 team.

Graduating this year are Captain Buster Campbell, Joe Rogers III, and Don Bell.

This season proved to be one of the best for the Varsity Rifle Team, with the marksmen piling up 4 wins and 5 losses in the New England College Rifle League, and an overall record of 7 and 6. The shooters under Coach Wooster were sparked to a winning season by Claude Barrette and Rex Baker. The high points of the season were the Norwich and Dartmouth matches. For the Redmen it was the first time that they had beaten Norwich, while the Dartmouth match was nip and tuck down to the last shot, with the NECRL champions coming out on top.

The 1953-54 pistol team improved on last year's record by coming in seventh in the United States Revolver Association matches. They were eighth last year in the same contest.

The U.S.R.A. matches are conducted over a period of eight weeks, with each participating team shooting at U.S.R.A. targets. The teams are rated by the total score of the five top men on each team.

Those that placed higher than the Redmen were such teams as West Point, Annapolis, and Michigan State.

Charles McCarthy was the top marksman on this year's team, and although it has not been confirmed yet, he appears to be a cinch for All-American. Other consistent top men this year were Captain Joseph Rogers III, Claude Barrette, Hugh Ahern, and Richard Waite.

The 1953 intramural softball season started off in high gear with two leagues in operation.

In the Fraternity League, Lambda Chi Alpha swamped the opposition to win the Greek crown for the second consecutive year. Sigma Alpha Epsilon took second place, and Alpha Epsilon Pi took third place by defeating Theta Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon in a playoff.

In the Dormitory League, Brooks A ran away from the rest of the league, followed by Brooks B, and Stockbridge tied for second. The intramural championship was won by Lambda Chi by a score of 4-2 behind the sterling pitching of John Howard, who was undefeated in league competition.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

The Intramural Football League was divided into two leagues, the Inter-Fraternity League and the Dormitory League. In one of the closest races in years, QTV defeated AEPi in a playoff to win first place in the Inter-Fraternity League. LCA defeated SAE in a playoff game to win third place. The season saw QTV come back to defeat an AEPi club which had knocked off favored LCA in a previous game.

In the Dormitory League, Mills ran away from the rest of the clubs, losing only one game throughout the season. Mills then proceeded to defeat QTV in a playoff to win the Intramural Football Championship.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING

With the inter-fraternity bowling season drawing toward a close, the race looked like a duplicate of last year's finish. AEPi was running away from the league for the second year in a row. The rest of the league was bunched closely together behind the league-leaders.

AEPi, led by Bob Pollack with a sparkling 104 average, held all individual and team records. These records included high single total (B. Pollack), high triple total (B. Pollack), high team total (singles), and high team triple total. This was the standing when the INDEX went to press. The remaining matches featured Sig Ep and TEP attempting to insure second and third spots respectively.

With three leagues in full swing, the 1953-54 basketball season was rapidly drawing to a close when the INDEX went to press. Lambda Chi Alpha was again running away from the rest of the league. The Lambdas looked like a shoo-in to finish the season undefeated. The rest of the league was bunched up behind the leading Lambdas.

In League B, the Bullets were undefeated, followed by Chadbourne B. League C featured Baker B and Chadbourne A as leading contenders, both sporting undefeated records.

These were incomplete results as the INDEX was unable to wait for final records.

NAIADS

Thirty graceful aquatic ballerinas comprise the Naiads, the University of Massachusetts synchronized swimming club; they are chosen especially for their swimming ability. The group provides a training class of Junior Naiads including ten freshman girls chosen in the fall who practice separately from the club until sometime in May, when they become full-fledged members. Thus the regular group always has a supply of alternates.

Their shows in April and during Parents' Weekend display the brilliant results of this practice. These two shows are student written, directed, and costumed under the supervision of Mrs. Hibbard of the women's Physical Education Department. Swimming to music, the girls present group and solo numbers.

The club also participates in demonstrations with similar clubs of other colleges. Highlighting this year's activities was an appearance on television

W.A.A.—VARSITY M

A successful year's program gained new ideas and inspiration from the National Athletic Federation of College Women Conference in California, which was attended by the president, Dotty Bemis, and faculty advisor, Miss Totman. Publicity proved to be better when the number of dormitory representatives was increased to four for each dormitory.

With an extensive program, the W.A.A. this year served a much greater number of students than ever before, even holding sports day programs with other colleges.

The Varsity M Club, composed of distinguished athletes who have won their "M" in varsity sports, functions to promote fellowship, encourage scholarship, foster social activities, and maintain good relations between coaches and players.

For the benefit of the scholarship fund the Club runs concessions and sells the sport programs at athletic events, and concessions at registration. Among the plans under consideration is one to hold annual fall dances, in particular, a dance for seniors, to raise funds for special awards.

DORMITORY LIFE

WOMEN'S DORMS

Somebody once said that you need only two buildings to start a college — a library and a dormitory. It's a pretty wholesome thought when you stop to think of it. Students living and studying and "goofing off" together. That's the dormitory part of it. That's the part of it we will be remembering most clearly ten or twenty years from now. We won't all remember all of the things, and we won't all remember the same things, but we will all remember some of the things. And 53-54 will add its collection to the bag of memories.

This was the year the women's "quadrangle" actually materialized. Two new dorms, Crabtree and Leach, opened their doors in September; and the girls on the hill reluctantly left their "castle in the clouds" (Butterfield) and came down to reacquaint themselves with the campus.

The record class of freshman girls occupied three full dormitories—Lewis, Thatcher, and Crabtree. And with the usual freshman energy and enthusiasm, dorm spirit was high. Thatcher took home another plaque from the Freshman Sing for placing first.

Cooperative cramming

Abbey checker finals

How tall are they?

Crabtree initiated another "first" in dormitory functions when together with Butterfield they gave a Christmas formal on the night before Christmas vacation. Sunday morning breakfasts were a weekly occurrence in all three freshman dorms. With the new ruling on closed fraternity parties, another function assumed by the freshman dormitories was the Saturday night party plan called Freshman Frolics. The dormitories alternated the responsibility of giving the parties so that each Saturday night a different freshman dorm — girls' and men's alike — was the site of a party.

The absence of the most vital organ in a girls' dormitory — telephones — created a problem of major importance for several weeks in Crabtree and Leach.

Thatcher boasted the highest percentage of girls who got their seventy averages on Dean's Saturday, while Lewis produced beauty queen after beauty queen.

The upperclass dormitories, Knowlton, Hamlin, the Abbey, and Leach, with much the same enthusiasm as the freshman dorms but without the novelty, took their places on the campus scene.

The Lost Chord

Anybody for marshmallows?

Hamlin's very successful "Nautical Nightmare" dance was matched only by Knowlton's "Moulin Rouge."

And all the dorms had their own private parties and problems which had no effect on the campus as a whole, but which were of tremendous importance to the girls sharing in the fun and in the troubles. Hallowe'en parties, house meetings, Christmas parties and decorations, open-house parties, bull-sessions, W.A.A. teams — these activities made dorm life a wonderful experience.

MEN'S DORMS

Now I'll tell one

The freshmen dorms sustained social activities among the men's dormitories with Butterfield's Bargain Ball at one for nineteen cents and two for thirty-seven. Other dances given by the dorms were key-noted by the Freshman Frolics every Saturday night. Brooks House saw a new regime of house counselors after the famous Milk Machine Holdup. And Butterfield very valiantly proved that boys won't always be mischievous boys when the entire house came to the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey in their hour of need.

Ah! it's a great life! from the heights of Butterfield to the depths of the cinder blocks. Most men at U. M. take this gigantic plunge from being freshmen on the hill to being upperclassmen in the crumbling abodes of Federal Circle. But the experience gained in either place is invaluable. Much as we griped about the noise problems in the cinder blocks, down deep inside we liked it! Going to sleep at night despite the sounds of a bull session at the other end of the corridor and a bouncing ping pong ball in the rec room became a real challenge. And in spite of slipping back three steps for every one up at Butterfield Hill in winter, it was a great dorm.

Oh, she's the one, all right

So I sez to her

Ever try rubbing two sticks together?

A quick glimpse into the dorms at any hour of the day or night gives a picture of what life here is really like — a group of fellows working diligently on a booby trap over the entrance to a “friend’s” room — a room full of sports fans, each one proving that he is worth a dozen Charlie O’Rourkes — a solitary one-fingered typist, the grey streaks of dawn entering his room — 3 A.M. and four bridge players — the operator telling him for the eighth time that the lines at Thatcher are busy — an alarm clock being shut off as he decides to sleep through his eight o'clock — a short game of hockey in the fourth floor corridor — and as many more activities as there are people to do them.

Ah! it's a great life! and when English I and Economics 25 are just names of courses in the distant past, incidents of dorm life will be vivid in our memories.

COMMUTERS

COMMUTERS

If one drew a circle with a twenty-mile radius, with the central point on campus, most of the areas from which commuters convene would be included. On the East this would be bounded by Ware and Athol, on the North by Greenfield, on the West by Williamsburg, and on the South by Holyoke and Springfield.

Arriving at various times between seven-thirty and ten, the majority of commuters converge upon Mem Hall, leave books or lunches in the several corners and hurry off to classes. Free periods find them in the Libe studying or in the C Store and Mem Hall playing cards or just talking. Lunch hour brings the choice of going to the Snack Bar, the C Store, or the Commuters' Room in the basement of Mem Hall.

Autos crammed with commuters exit from campus in the afternoons from three until about five-thirty. Many of these return at night to club meetings and for intra-mural sports, for the majority of commuters take active part in campus activities. As a group they sponsor dances and parties. At the present time, a constitution for the new Commuters' Club is before the Senate. Many day students belong to fraternities and sororities. Women commuters enter teams in volleyball, bowling, basketball, and badminton competition, while the men's basketball team has consistently ranked high in the league. In addition, commuters are well represented by several senators in the student government.

Commuting in this age of fast automobiles offers few difficulties except, of course, occasional flat tires. Some commuters who walk from homes in Amherst find they have a shorter distance to travel than certain fraternity or sorority people, but regardless of where one lives or what one's official classification is, everybody belongs on the UM campus. Commuters find complete acceptance by campus residents and are given every consideration and encouragement by the administration.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

President: Carolyn Alger
Vice-President: Jane Hartman
Secretary: Joan Whittemore
Treasurer: Norma Gurwitz

The Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of two members from each sorority, seeks to carry on the policies and ideals it has set up with the guidance of National Pan-Hellenic to foster high standards and encourage worthwhile contributions from each sorority. Pan-Hell strives to set up rules which will be fair and intelligent, and works diligently, especially through rushing regulations, to provide the various sororities with a co-ordinating device, and thus leads to closer co-operation.

Annually Pan-Hell sponsors a workshop which has proved its value to sorority officers especially. Ideas and actual experience in sorority affairs are exchanged. Also, the Council gives a scholarship tea, and assists in such worthwhile drives as the Campus Chest.

Pan-Hell sponsorship of coffee hours for Seniors, sorority exchange suppers, and inter-sorority athletics have added to the social life of the campus and have helped to increase friendly spirit.

CHI OMEGA

Home, or 315 Lincoln Avenue, was the scene of many spirited open houses after all the home football games of the 1953 season. It was also the meeting place of all the sororities that first week of school in the fall, as many girls from other houses came to see the new "Chi O" house after summer remodeling.

Seventeen pledges from the freshman class were welcomed into the House the second week in December. The highlight of the social season was the annual pledge formal dinner dance at the Hotel Northampton.

In May, the senior sisters were honored by the juniors at a banquet held at the Whately Inn. These seniors sadly leave behind many happy hours of bridge games with each other and the sisters.

Besides the activities of the sorority, many campus committees, clubs, Drill Team, departmental and religious organizations, cheerleaders, and athletic teams found the names of Chi Omegas listed as active members.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The year 1953-1954 has as usual been a busy one for the Thetas. A tea for our new house-mother, Mrs. Clark, began the year. It was followed by an informal Halloween Party put on by the pledges, a Christmas party for the under-privileged children of Amherst, and the Pledge Formal in February. Other events on the Theta social calendar were several open houses held during the football season, and exchange suppers with the other sororities and fraternities.

The girls have again been active participants in many campus organizations such as Phi Kappa Phi, Scrolls, Chorale, Drill Team, Collegian, and Cheer Leader Squad.

The Thetas heartily welcomed Mrs. Stevens, our new District President, who spent a few days at the house in the fall.

So Gamma Eta continues to exemplify the best traditions and principles of Kappa Alpha Theta.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Once again the Kappas enjoyed a very successful year both socially and academically. K.K.G. was well represented on Isogon, Scrolls, Judiciary, and Senate, as well as on the Cheerleading Squad, Drill Team, Naiads, W.A.A., Winter Carnival Committees, Chorale, Roister Doisters, and Operetta Guild.

Highlighting Delta Nu's social calendar were the Fall open houses, exchange dinners, and the Annual Formal at which Kappa's new pledges were honored. Kappa also took first prize in the Annual Homecoming float parade.

Of this the Kappas may be proud — a sorority with spirit, capability, and congeniality. Past successes predict future accomplishments on an even grander scale.

PHI DELTA NU

1953 marked the third birthday of Phi Delta Nu. The Founders Day celebration in November was one of a series of socials in this, the most successful year in its history. Parties with fraternities, coffee hours with advisers, and entertainment among the members, as well as the annual Pledge Formal, rounded out the social schedule.

This lighter side did not dull the serious purpose of the sorority. Founded as the first completely non-discriminatory sorority, Phi Delt never lost sight of the obligation of these higher ideals. With this in mind, Thanksgiving baskets were distributed to the needy and Christmas gifts given to welfare children. Plans for a house were formulated, while the members enjoyed living together in their corridor in Knowlton. With the cooperation of other groups on campus the difficulties of functioning without a house were overcome.

In this year, then, Phi Delta Nu became a well-integrated part of campus life.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi began the year 1953-1954 with a busy schedule, some of its activities including a tea for the housemother, Mrs. Dawe, and a dance with a French theme, Boîte de Nuit. The dance also served as an opening for Pi Phi's new dining room.

During rushing, an invitation party, called Hit Parade, was a bouncing success. The decorations and the members' costumes represented song titles.

In the spring of 1953 Pi Beta Phi carried away highest honors in the inter-sorority competition as they won first place in both the sorority sing and the declamation. The members were also active in many other campus activities, some of which were Scrolls, Isogon, W.A.A., Drill Team, Chorale, Operetta Guild, Judiciary, and Winter Carnival Committees.

During the football season the Pi Phi house and dining room overflowed with friends and alumnae at three open houses, thus carrying on the tradition of Pi Phi friendliness and hospitality.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

This year the Sig Delts are enjoying life in their newly decorated living rooms and kitchen — not to mention the new furniture that was added to the upper floor. However, they don't just sit back and relax in this homey atmosphere. Besides ranking high scholastically, the Sig Delts are prominent in campus activities. We can boast of a cheerleader, drill team members, statistics, managing, and typing editors of the INDEX, secretary of the Quarterly, assistant editor of the

Handbook, subscription manager of the Collegian, member of Isogon, and members of the Home Economics and Economics Honor Societies, and of Phi Kappa Phi.

The Sig Delts have also had many enjoyable social functions. Among them were a hay ride, exchange suppers with other sororities, and a Christmas party with children from Brightside. Soon after these functions came the Founders Day Banquet and then the unforgettable Pledge Formal.

SIGMA KAPPA

The Sigma K's started off a most successful year by winning third place in the annual Home-coming Float Parade. It was the second time in three years that the Sigmas have taken honors in this event.

The sorority had an active social program this year with its Annual Neighborhood Tea, Halloween Dance, exchange suppers, open houses, and Pledge Formal. The chapter's social calendar had its climax in the spring with the celebration of Sigma Kappa's tenth anniversary on campus. The festivities of the anniversary weekend were enjoyed by many Sigma Kappas, including alumnae and national officers.

The Sigmas have also been busy during the past year with various campus activities such as Collegian, International Relations Club, W.A.A., Chess Club, W.M.U.A., Naiads, Drill Team, Band, Chorale, and R.D.'s. Among us we have the President of Pan-Hellenic and the Junior Class Secretary.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

Placing second in the previous year's fraternity competitions was a stimulus for Alpha Epsilon Pi to try this year to repeat that performance, and they got off to a good start by placing second in the league competition in football. With the addition of an active freshman class Pi promised to do well in the other athletic events.

AEPi tried to match its athletic achievements in the social and academic spheres. The brothers were well represented on the Collegian, INDEX, Maroon Key, and Adelpia, as well as in other campus activities this year. Along with the usual Saturday night festivities Pi managed to come up with a varied and successful social season which contributed to the lighter side of campus life.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

A democratic college home has been maintained at Alpha Gam with a great variety of activities keeping individual development and sociability at a high level.

Again this year, as in the past, the men of Mu have continued a high participation in campus activity. Alpha Gam was well represented in the Senate, Judging Teams, and the Hort Show, as well as with a high membership in campus clubs, many of which have AGR officers.

Socially, Alpha Gam was backboned by a fine series of Saturday night dances. The season was highlighted by the annual Farmers' Frolic and the Pink Rose Formal.

As in the past, diligence to our primary task as students has kept a high scholastic average at Mu of which we are especially proud.

DELTA SIGMA CHI

Starting its second full year of existence, Delta Sigma Chi, through the hard work and perseverance of its members, finds itself firmly established among the fraternities on campus. Delta Sig has participated in all inter-fraternity activities, and in the spring of '53, with one full year of experience under its belt, took first place in the inter-fraternity sing. Many of its members have been active in the Chorale, A.P.O., Campus Chest, S.C.A., Operetta, and other campus groups.

During the past summer, the fraternity purchased a new house and established its residence at 401 North Pleasant Street. With Mrs. Osgood, their house mother, the members enjoy a strictly informal, homey atmosphere.

Among its more important activities, Delta Sig has gained recognition by its well-balanced and well-backed social program, which is highlighted by an annual Circus Ball and Steak Cook-Out.

With the prospect of a fine pledge class, Delta Sigma Chi is making many plans for the future.

KAPPA SIGMA

Again this year Kappa Sigma held places of leadership in major University activities, including Maroon Key, Winter Carnival committee, and Statesmen. But where the house really shone was in its usual participation in all varsity and intramural sports, contributing to the success of the house and the University athletic year.

Socially, Kappa Sigma enjoyed a successful season. Of course, there was the incomparable Saturday night party as the standard item on the social calendar, but highlights of the season were a gay Christmas party for the underprivileged children of Amherst, a memorable Pledge Formal, and the traditional Embassy Ball.

Kappa Sig enjoys the backing of a strong and active House Corporation which was instrumental in providing new furniture for the house this year. With its support, plus that of the new pledges, the Greeks from Butterfield Terrace expect to maintain their reputation as a leading fraternity.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha has once again attempted to achieve sound balance among its members and to retain its place among the fraternities on campus in social, athletic, and political activities.

Its prestige at the University was bolstered by such personalities as the 1953 football captain, the 1954 cross-country captain, the hockey captain, the president of Adelpia, vice-president of the sophomore class, and a trio of sophomores in the Maroon Key.

The Fall and Spring Formals, Christmas Party, St. Patrick's Day Party, and Founders Day Banquet highlighted the social calendar.

Augmented by another well-rounded pledge class, Lambda Chi Alpha continues to uphold its traditional ideals, combining diversity with unity.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

This was a successful year in all respects — from the initial party in September through the Autumn Nocturne Formal to the Christmas Party, with cooperation and enjoyment of all Phi Sigs at the zenith. Motif and outdoor activities, including the Moonlight Girl Formal and parties for sororities, seniors, and pledges, brought this year to a close much too soon.

The singing to the girls we have pinned, the house duties on that cool Saturday morning, the little glance on a Sunday, the little things that have made collegiate life a bit more exciting, the complete relaxation one feels within these ivied walls — when considering these, one can truly say that we have had an impressive year!

Q. T. V.

On May 12, 1954, the big old house was alive with the gaiety of both the active and inactive members of Q.T.V., as the oldest fraternity on campus celebrated its eighty-fifth anniversary.

It was particularly appropriate that this anniversary year was an outstanding one at Q.T.V. A first in intra-mural football competition, as well as fine teams in the other sports, put Q.T.V. well up in the running for first place in intra-fraternity competition. A large and active pledge class assures the house of continuing balance and participation in all aspects of campus activity.

Another new addition, the second in two years, was built this year. On the social side as well, improvements have been made. The Q.T.V. Rathskeller was opened early in the year... a very spacious cellar area that has been completely reconditioned and re-decorated to provide the finest in party facilities.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The challenge faced by the men of S.A.E. at the start of this year was that of a reputation to uphold rather than build, for the close of 1952-1953 found their house holding first place in over-all interfraternity competition. Significant placings in athletics and in Greek Week activities contributed heavily to this successful record.

Social highlights of the year were provided by the February Frost and the annual spring formal, which was again distinctive for being held outside on the spacious lawn behind the S.A.E. house. Variety was added to the social calendar by novelties like the Apache Party, the pajama party, and Friday night parties with the sororities.

Representation among class officers, honorary societies, clubs, and in nearly every significant campus activity gained further prestige for S.A.E., and 1953-1954 proved to be another successful year for the brothers from Sunset Avenue.

SIGMA PHI -EPSILON

The house with the Red Door again looks back on a successful year.

Finishing up Greek Week with a first place in the Skits and a second in the Sing, the brothers were happy in '53 to find they had upheld the tradition of excellence that Sigma Phi Epsilon has established on campus.

Not only in interfraternity competition, but in all phases of college life, Sig Eps are the leaders. Brothers hold such diversified positions as President of the Student Senate, executive editor of the Collegian, and manager of the Concert Association, as well as membership in numerous other organizations.

Although one of the leaders in scholarship, Sig Ep continues to hold successful parties every week, with the annual Fiesta Party, Harvest Ball and the final fling of the year, the fabulous Sweet-heart Ball, furthering Sigma Phi Epsilon's reputation as a truly social fraternity.

TAU EPSILON PHI

Tau Epsilon Phi this year has continued to hold a high place in campus life.

To start the year successfully TEP took first place in the Homecoming Float Parade, and as in the past, Tau Epsilon Phi has had men in all of the important campus events, such as Mili Ball and Greek Ball, and members in activities like the Collegian, varsity football, track, lacrosse, and Dance Band.

The 1953-54 social season was a huge success, the highlights being the annual Hell Dance, Thug Dance, and Gambling Night. The social event of the year was the Initiation Banquet and Ball, which was held in March.

A new group of fine men from the class of 1957 insured Tau Epsilon Phi of more successful years to come.

THETA CHI

1953-54 found everyone entering into the spirit of Theta Chi by participating one way or another in football, basketball, soft-ball, bowling, sing, skit, or snow sculpture for Inter-fraternity Competition, and in many other campus activities. The highlights of the year were the Sadie Hawkins party, the Bowery Ball, and the memorable Carnation Ball. Regular Saturday night parties and exchange suppers, along with other social events, helped to form this unforgettable year for Theta Chi.

Theta Chis play an important part in many campus organizations; it has members in Adelphia, Maroon Key and Roister Doisters. Theta Chis are drill masters of the drill team, executive members of the Operetta Guild, class officers, captain of the swimming team, and co-captain of basketball. Our long awaited new wing to the house will be completed by fall and will provide further facilities to the fraternity.

PHI MU DELTA

Phi Mu Delta National Fraternity was established on the University campus when Zeta Zeta Zeta became Nu Zeta chapter on October 17, 1953. With a new house on Sunset Avenue, the brothers swung into what was a great social season.

Having led the fraternities in scholastic average for two successive semesters, the brothers expected to hold their own in this department. A series of theme parties and an initiation party started the social season with a bang.

With the immediate plans for increasing the membership and for a trophy room, the fraternity will try to consolidate its campus position. Though a relatively young fraternity, it is already firmly established and contributing actively to campus life.

DELTA PHI GAMMA

The optimistic ideals needed by the creators of a new fraternity to make it a success have been exemplified in the members of Delta Phi Gamma. Though few in number, Delta Phi has participated in most of the IFC competitions. Making its debut in the skits, it also fielded a softball, basketball, and football team in its first year of organization. Its members are active in outside activities as well, with representation on WMUA, the Collegian, and numerous other worth-while campus groups.

Though having to make Middlesex Dorm do as a house, Delta Phi has nevertheless, through the generosity of other fraternities on campus, had its party times. Evening meals at Reed's have helped the group to get into the real spirit of fraternal living.

With the incoming freshmen to augment its membership, there is little doubt that Delta Phi will sprout from its infancy into a well-known fraternal group.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

ROBERT LEAVITT
Executive Secretary

The Alumni Office functions as the general information center for University graduates wherever they may be. The office keeps a file on all alumni and maintains data on the doings and whereabouts of graduates. It publishes a magazine, Massachusetts Alumnus, to distribute information to and from alumni. This is an enlargement and improvement on the former Alumni Bulletin.

The Office, reorganized for greater effectiveness under Mr. Leavitt, who became Alumni Secretary last July, is a direct tie between present and past U. of M. students. The Associate Alumni body has established itself as one of the most devoted and helpful alumni bodies in the country. Its efforts were directly responsible for Memorial Hall, and many of our dormitories. Its plans now include construction of a long-needed Student Union building.

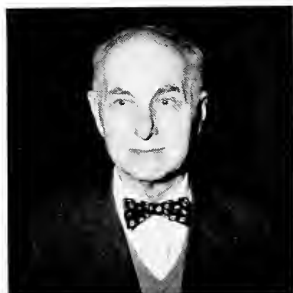

GILBERT LLEWELLYN WOODSIDE
Dean

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Dedicated to the ideal of the advancement of knowledge through faculty and student research and other creative work, the Graduate School believes that such work is the best method of developing intellectual humility, because through it the student learns how difficult it is to add to the sum of human knowledge. It hopes to stimulate the spark of intellectual curiosity in all of its students so that regardless of what career they are preparing themselves for, their true preparation is for a life devoted to learning. It seeks to impart respect for true scholarship, as not alone the grasp of the methodology of a field of learning, but unwavering dedication to an impelling desire to know, as well as the development of the ability to find true satisfaction in knowing.

TO THE CLASS OF 1954

The time has come when we must bid you Godspeed as your names are moved to the roster of Alumni. For you, the golden undergraduate days are over. They are memorialized by this INDEX which was prepared by your classmates as a record of the principal happenings in your years on the campus. For you, individually, the book represents much more than appears on its pages as it recalls those personal items associated with events of broad interest.

Your four years have been marked by tremendous growth and expansion of the University. As you leave the campus there is every indication that this development will continue until the University can take its proper place in higher education in the Commonwealth. In this period of growth, the University needs the active support of everyone interested, in order that growth and development may continue and in order that it may be a sane and constructive development.

The physical appearance of the campus will inevitably change with the years, but the process is one of addition and the present campus will remain the heart of the University. You will always find in the greater organization the lesser University you have known so intimately and loved so well.

Let's make it "farewell to Bay State, but not goodbye." As you go out to see what you can accomplish with what you have learned and especially with what you have become, you carry with you our continued interest. Wherever you go and whatever you do you have our best wishes — always.

Absent: McMullin, Lucier, Goldman

ADELPHIA

Adelphia, the senior men's honor society, is composed of nine men who have exhibited outstanding qualities of leadership. They are tapped at Senior Convocation in the spring of their junior year, at which time ten senior men are also recognized for their contributions to the University.

The nine Adelphians began the year with many plans for promoting cooperation and leadership, and as the year wore on proved again their service to the University as they brought the plans to fruition. Early in the fall they were active in the freshman orientation program. With Isogon they sponsored all the rallies, rally dances, and the Homecoming Float Parade, adding materially to the spirit and success of the fall sports program.

Accepting the responsibility for Winter Carnival, Adelphia was responsible for its success this year. The Carnival was moved forward in the calendar to avoid the snowless fiascos of the past, and in this case abundant snow sculptures proved the merit of the idea. Packing all events into one whirlwind weekend, climaxed by fireworks, resulted in heightened interest and increased participation.

Again this year Adelphia and Isogon co-sponsored Campus Varieties. A professional, smoothly-run performance of this year's production, Showboat, was attended by record-breaking numbers and met with general acclaim.

ISOGON

Since its founding in 1940, Isogon has honored a select group of senior women who have shown leadership, excelled in scholarship, and exhibited versatility in college life. The members of this honorary society are chosen at the end of their junior year at a traditional tapping ceremony which is one of the highlights of the spring Women's Honors Convocation.

Isogon's classification as a service organization is a modest indication of its work. A list of its activities is quantitatively impressive, but it is their qualitative execution that has earned Isogon its reputation as a dependable promoter of school spirit and a hard-working supporter of all University projects.

The freshman orientation program was especially successful this year, thanks to a concentrated and well-planned "Know Your State University" campaign with which Adelpia lent a hand.

Conscious of the metamorphosis the University is undergoing, this year Isogon took the first step toward a change in its own organization. Its members conferred with representatives of Mortarboard, a national senior women's honorary society, to consider both the possibility and desirability of securing a national affiliation.

UNDERCLASSMEN

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS
Jones, Reagan, Hall, Higgins

The Great Divide has been passed. The long-awaited second half is upon us, for we are members of the junior class.

We are through with the required courses, the "you-must-take-this" and "you-must-take-that" of pre-registration. If we have been faithful, we have seen the last of the required gym

Let's make a bubble.

Gee! Real brass buttons!

classes. From now on it's up to us.

But we do have a problem, and a big one. We must have a major (the book says so) and we must have one NOW.

So, bewildered and a little bit afraid, most of us ask, "WHAT?" Shall it be economics or government, history or English, chemistry or mathematics? We seem to be trapped in a maze. How can we know? How many shall we have to try?

Suddenly we remember that we have advisors, we have parents.

Two against me...it ain't fair!

We know professors. While the final decision is up to us, we are not alone.

I wonder if it's good to eat?

And so we begin. We think and test and ask. Then we think again. And in the end, the years of preparation and guidance pay off, for we decide. If we are lucky, we make the right choice.

Thus we continue to develop, to learn, to accept and to question. We are sure now, for we have found ourselves.

SOPHOMORES

As the sophomores return to school in September, they find that they have become the important half of the hazing duo. At long last they have the upper hand. Registration is a familiar thing to them. Not only do they know how to register, but they even know what to register for. And after their week of guiding the freshmen through their first experience of college life the sophomores return to their familiar studies and extracurricular activities.

Life takes on a broader scope for them. They now have three cuts per course and to their great joy they learn that the Dean's Office will not lower a course grade for overcutting. That Saturday English class may not be so bad! For the women later hours are a welcome blessing.

The sophomores not only have their choice of campus activities—they assume places of leadership.

Mud in your eye

What do you think of my mother?

They take charge of the Christmas Carol Sing and the Soph-Senior Hop. They are members of Maroon Key or Scrolls. The athletes of the class are on varsity teams now, and the whole University takes on a new meaning for the sophomore who now feels a real part of it.

The enthusiasm and exuberance of the sophomore are wonderful things to see. They enter into activities with a vim and vigor that make the other upper classes marvel. Nothing slows them down. No longer are they on the outside looking in! This is college—and they are sophomores—not freshmen with their fears or juniors with decisions to make or seniors who are beginning to suffer from nostalgia, but they are members of an active and carefree class.

They have at last found a "home" at the University, and feel a real reluctance to leave the campus when June comes around. Their horizons have broadened, and they look forward with heightened anticipation to the next year, when they will be juniors.

SCROLLS

The Scrolls are well-known, not only to the Freshman Women who look to them for leadership and help, especially through those first days in September, but also to the campus for their outstanding members and contributions to college life. At an All-Women's Honor Convocation in the Spring, the new members are tapped for this Sophomore Honor Society, which bases its selection on leadership, service and personality.

The Scrolls started out this September with a well-organized and interesting plan to welcome the freshmen and make them feel a part of the campus. Outstanding in particular was the freshman dormitory competition, which was climaxed by a successful talent night.

From the time the Scrolls arrive for the Student Leaders Conference before school opens officially, until late in October, they do all they can to help the new coeds. Their assistance at registration is the only salvation of many a bewildered freshman. But their service goes further than this, as they gladly lend a hand to Isogon and other organizations throughout the year.

Front Row: Robideau, Caron, Johnson, Nicholae, Wolk, Fiser, Clark

MAROON KEY

The Maroon Key, composed of twenty outstanding men of the sophomore class tapped in the spring, has the primary purpose of promoting good sportsmanship and school spirit. Capturing freshman enthusiasm is one way it carries out this aim. Co-ordinating its plans with those of the Scrolls, the Maroon Key works diligently to acquaint the freshmen with the campus, especially during the few days before the upper-classmen arrive in September. Then during Freshman Week, it helps make the many freshman activities a success. The Maroon Key members are found along with the Scrolls trying to help the bewildered freshman through the confusion of registration.

The white caps with the Maroon Keys are seen at every football game as the Key acts as host to visiting athletic teams. After the Homecoming game it supervises the freshman-sophomore Rope Pull.

Always willing to step in and help wherever it is needed, the Key sets a good example in school spirit and can rightfully claim much of the credit for the success of countless school activities.

FRESHMEN

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS
Standing: Steele
Seated: Brown, Boyle

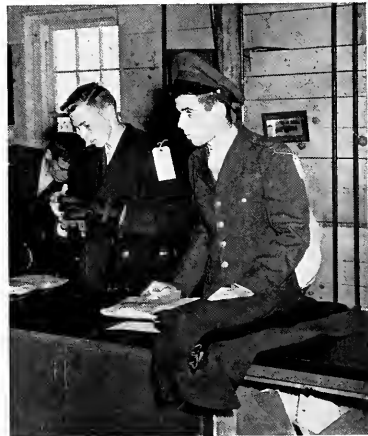

After months of tension and uncertainty, and a summer full of excitement and preparations, the recent high-school graduate is at last what he has dreamed of being — the college freshman. And as he enters into his college career a world of newness unfolds before him.

There are new faces and, as a result, new friends; there are new classes; new examination methods, new time schedules, new books, new teachers, and some discouraging standing in line. Hard as it may seem during the first few weeks, all of these new things must be met and understood and accepted by the college freshman.

But with all the bewilderment and uncertainty there is a bit of pride and glory, too. At last he is a part of a living, breathing private community. It is here that he will prepare to meet and conquer the world. It is here that his opinions and convictions will be molded. It is here that he will at last become a complete individual.

And while freshman trigonometry and English and speech and history may not seem to be a direct route to conquering the world, and eight o'clock classes may seem to be a big sacrifice for the privilege of forming opinions, the freshman begins to understand slowly that it must be that way.

As he understands and accepts, pride develops and he becomes more and more a part of the college community.

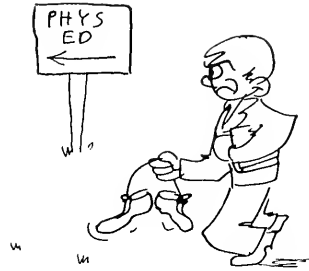

The newness becomes familiarity and mellows with age. What he enjoyed before because it was a novelty, he enjoys now because it has become a part of him. The astonishing conglomeration of professors, deans, housemothers and proctors takes on normal proportions. He accepts them as individuals and respects them as such. Upperclassmen lose their austerity and suddenly become members of the gang. Even courses which once seemed terrifying become challenges rather than threats.

And so the first year continues. To be sure, the freshman has not become the world-wise student.

Many times again during the course of the year his inadequacy is felt keenly. He is confronted with problems and decisions which he is not quite ready to settle alone. But now he at least is sure of where to seek help. And he is capable of weighing advice and reaching a solution. Each time he does, his confidence grows and he demands respect both from himself and from others.

Soon the freshman finds that people seek his advice and he finds much to his astonishment that he is capable of giving it. As the year nears its end he has become an expert for prospective college freshmen. He is the one to suggest courses and study methods and professors. He is the one who knows.

He has completed his metamorphosis. He has conquered a new world. Moreover, he himself has been conquered and captivated by the strange and wonderful freshman saga.

A Book To Be Treasured . . .

This annual is a permanent record, in picture and prose, of the academic year 1953-1954 at University of Massachusetts. Its value will increase as the years pass, and the quality of the printing will contribute in great measure to its lasting worth.

The Andover Press, Ltd., takes pride in its well-known craftsmanship which, combined with the long hours of careful planning and painstaking editorial work by the INDEX Staff, makes this a book to be treasured.
